VISIT OF PLEASURE.

President Mitchell in New York to See Friends Off for Europe.

NEW YORK, July 6.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers arrived in New York tonight. He said he was in the city not on strike business, but to see some friends off to Europe tomorrow. He said he will see no one while in New York on strike matters, nor would he talk about the coming national meeting of mine workers at Indianapolis. As to the anthracite strike Mr. Mitchell said:

"The strike is going on all right and in our favor. We are not discouraged by our work since the beginning of the strike. We will win. No men have gone back at all."

STRIKE OF PANTSMAKERS.

Men in Baltimore Want the Employers to Furnish Them With Tools.

BALTIMORE, July 6.—Five hundred pantsmakers and pressers will strike tomorrow morning. This was the decision of the executive committee of the Pantsmakers' union today. The strike will tie up 200 small shops, many of them so-called "sweat shops."

The strike is over the furnishing of machines and tools by the men. The sewing machines cost the men $75, which they pay in installments and they are compelled to pay for the hauling of the machines from shop to shop. The men claim they are compelled to work 18 hours a day and earn but $8 a week.

FIVE ARE DEAD FROM THE HEAT OF YESTERDAY

Was Hottest Day of the Year and Humidity Was High.

PROSTRATIONS WERE FREQUENT

Temperature Reached 93 and Sudden Coolness Soon Subsided.

ANOTHER VICTIM IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Yesterday was the hottest day of the year in the city. Scores of persons were prostrated and the dead number five, with another man in a serious condition. The number of prostrations was greatly lessened by the fact that it was Sunday and little or no work was in progress, even at the mills, where the Fourth of July shut-down had been extended until this morning.

The reported victims of yesterday were all prostrated in this city and Allegheny, and emergency cases, where the prostrated victims were able to leave the hospitals again are not recorded. The list of deaths and probably fatally stricken follows:

The Dead.

CATHERINE LIPPS, 72 years old, of No. 1926 Jane street, died at her home.

FRANK DOUGHERTY, aged 12, of Woods Run avenue, Allegheny; drowned at 5:45 p. m. yesterday while bathing in the Allegheny river with other boys. Body not recovered.

In Critical Condition.

Humidity Was Great.

Heat and humidity combined to make yesterday not only the hottest day of the year, but also the most oppressive. On Saturday the thermometer had mounted to 91 degrees, but at 1 p. m. on Sunday the mercury airily climbed to 93. Had it stayed there long there might have been many more heat prostrations reported, but a storm came up, and in one hour the temperature fell 17 degrees. It soon went up again.

The day was, therefore, one of contrasts. The thermometer fell during the night to 75 degrees at 7 a. m. yesterday, but from that hour on it went on a steady rise, until 1 p. m., when the mercury stood at 93. About 1:30 p. m. a rainstorm accompanied with thunder and lightning came up, and in less than 30 minutes the thermometer fell to 76 degrees, the record at 2 p. m.

It was only a brief respite, however. The mercury lost no time and immediately began to climb again, until at 4 p. m., it had got to 91, within two degrees of the maximum temperature of the day. The heat was then, of course, more oppressive than at 1 o'clock, for the evaporation of the rain that had fallen filled the atmosphere with dampness.

Relief Was Brief.

In fact at 8 o'clock last evening the humidity was 89 per cent, 14 per cent greater than on Friday at the same hour. The rain that fell during the cooling-off spell in the afternoon, amounted only to .09 of an inch, but it was furious while it lasted, and brought plenty of wind with it.

It was a day that invited to outings. It was hard to resist the allurement of the open car, speeding to suburban green and coolness. The traction inspectors at the termini of the different lines informed the mortomen in the morning that they could take their coats off and work in their shirt sleeves, which was the first time this season that the boon was granted.

It was a great day for the traction parks and for steamboat excursions. Capt. John Klein's boat took out several parties of excursionists during the day and evening and the Francis J. Torrance was loaded on each of her trips. Schenley park was not so well patronized, except by sightseers who wanted to see for themselves the damage done by the thousands who trampled over the greensward on the Fourth.

Thirsty Crowds.

It was too hot for very many to go to Highland park, for shade is scarce there, but some persons went and suffered the discomfort of the hot zoo, pitying themselves and envying the polar bear with a huge chunk of ice on which he rested his paws.

There were few people downtown and most of those who were seen were either getting on or off traction cars. The drug stores did a land office business and the little stores in the tenement districts sold innumerable ice balls.

A crowd surrounded the Howe spring on Fifth avenue in the East End all day long. In the morning children and domestics of the neighborhood for blocks around filled pails and pitchers at the cool streams that gush out from the hillside, and later in the day pedestrians, bicyclists, chauffeurs and those who were out driving dismounted at the spring and slaked their thirst. Conductors and motormen often stop at the spring and yesterday many passengers got off and let their car go on without them, satisfied to get a drink of the delicious water.

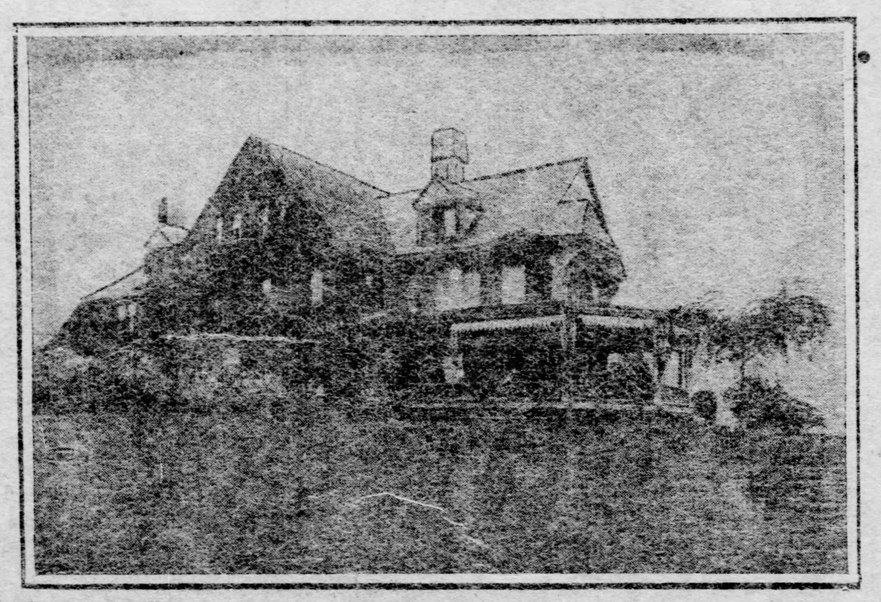
TRAIN WRECKS BUILDING.

Broken Axle Causes It to Run Amuck at East Liverpool.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 6.—(Special.)—Fourteen freight cars of westbound extra freight No. 60 were piled in a heap near the Cleveland & Pittsburgh station this morning.

A corner of the building of the Power Supply Company was badly wrecked. Thomas Abram's house and other buildings were damaged. A panic prevailed in many dwelling houses along the railroad. A broken axle caused the wreck.

WHERE THE PRESIDENT IS SPENDING HIS VACATION.



The Roosevelt Home at Oyster Bay.

A VILLAGE BANK IS THE CAPITOL OF THE NATION

But Little Public Business Will Claim the President's Time.

OYSTER BAY RESENTS DETECTIVES' WATCH

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 6.—In discussing the president's stay at Oyster Bay, Secretary Cortelyou today said there seemed to be considerable misapprehension as to some features of it. He said no elaborate office would be established and that the only clerical force maintained would consist of two stenographers. Arrangements have been about concluded for the use of two rooms in the bank building for office purposes, and it will be there that the president will transact most of his business when he comes into town.

Both the president and his secretary have planned to make their brief holiday as restful as possible, and to that end will transact in Oyster Bay only the most immediate public business. Everything else will be transmitted to Washington for attention there, either by the regular White House force, or, in cases where other action is required, by the various departments. This is in accordance with the practice which has been followed successfully during previous summers. The president will not receive delegations, and hopes to have all matters intended for him, not of the most pressing importance, submitted by correspondence.

The meager hotel accommodations here will go far toward giving the president that rest and freedom from unnecessary official cares which he has made it plain to everyone he desires. What scant accommodations there are have been already preempted, and persons arriving here from this time on during the president's stay probably will find themselves without a place to sleep.

The president spent a restful night at Sagamora hill. Even the howling of the family dog, which was kept up continuously, did not disturb his slumbers. He rose early and attended services at Christ Episcopal church. In his carriage were Miss Carew, his son Archie and Lieut. Ferguson of the Rough Riders, who is his guest. While waiting for Mrs. Roosevelt and the rest of the family the president stood outside the church and greeted his friends. To a newspaper man he laughingly remarked that Mrs. Roosevelt and the children were coming along in an express wagon.

The people of Oyster Bay seem to resent the presence of the secret service men, as they believe the president is perfectly safe from bodily harm. The strictest surveillance is maintained, however, despite these protestations.

PLATT FOR ROOSEVELT.

New York Senator Thinks His State and Pennsylvania Will Be for President's Nomination.

NEW YORK, July 6.—(Special.)—In the course of an interview today Senator Platt came out flatfootedly for President Roosevelt for a second term. After his afternoon nap Senator Platt talked politics. His favorite time for discussing state and national affairs is just before dinner Sundays.

"Pennsylvania," it was suggested, "will unite with New York in behalf of the president?"

"Yes," said the senator, "and if the two states stand together, that will settle it, even if some of us have to do the fighting with broken ribs," alluding to the disadvantage under which he went to Philadelphia in 1900.

RUMORS AT OYSTER BAY.

One False Report Alleged That Roosevelt's Son Was Injured.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 6.—Sensationalism has begun to play its part at Oyster Bay. Rumor had it that Archie, son of the president, had fallen from his horse and been injured.

This was construed into a wild story of a serious accident, but as the young man was later seen in church with his father, the story was proved to be a canard.

Young Roosevelts in Mourning.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 6.—There is mourning among the Roosevelt children today. While they were at breakfast the trick dog presented to Archie by Col. Closon of Chicago, died. The dog's mother, "Rozzie," recently exhibited her talents at the White House, and so pleased was Mrs. Roosevelt that she gave Col. Closon a handsome collar for the animal.

LUD PRITTS' GUN UPHOLDS RECORD OF THE FAMILY

Son of "Old Bill" Fires Once and Dead Man Falls in the Darkness.

IN DEFENSE OF HIS HOME

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Connellsville, Pa., July 6.—From the mountains near Rockwood, Somerset county, come meager details of a shooting affray in which the marksmanship of Lud Pritts, son of the famous moonshiner, Old Bill Pritts, was displayed in a remarkable manner.

Pritts lives with his young wife up the mountain side from Rockwood. Last night a man entered the house and proceeded to the woman's apartment. Her husband was down stairs in another room.

Mrs. Pritts screamed and her assailant started to run, but Pritts was aroused, and in the dim light shot the intruder dead with a Winchester.

ENJOYS THE RIDES.

CUMBERLAND, MD., July 6.—(Special.)—Georgia Harris, a pretty 17-year-old girl, said to belong to a family of prominence at Grafton, W. Va., is being held here by the police on a charge of train jumping. The girl has been giving the passenger conductors on the Baltimore & Ohio much trouble.

She steps aboard a passenger train at night and when the conductor comes along coolly informs him that she has neither money nor ticket. Disliking to put her off in the darkness she is allowed to ride to the next station. She has been riding up and down the line for two weeks.

She was caught in the act of boarding a train here this afternoon and handed over to the police.

WOULD MARCH ON PARIS.

Revolutionary Threat by Dismissed Workmen of Arms Factory, Who Demand Money.

PARIS, July 6.—A committee of workmen who have been dismissed from the state arms factory at St. Etienne, has published a manifesto demanding the return of sums of money which they contributed while employed at the factory for pensions, and declaring that in the event of their demand being refused the men will march on Paris.

Danish Islands at Hague Tribunal.

LONDON, July 7.—The Brussels correspondent of the Times says that The Hague tribunal is to be consulted on some point regarding the terms of the sale of the Danish island of St. Thomas to the United States.

MIDGET CAPSIZES AND THREE PEOPLE LOSE THEIR LIVES

Victims Are Wife and Daughter of Capt. Horn and Young Woman Guest.

OTHERS CLING TO MAST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 6.—The wife of Capt. Tiemann N. Horn of the Ninety-fifth company, sea coast artillery, his daughter Frances, aged 7, and Miss Alice McMahon of Nyack, N. Y., were drowned in Sandy Hook bay today. Capt. Horn is stationed at Fort Hancock.

Capt. Horn made up a sailing party to go out on the bay in his small catrigged yacht Midget. Those aboard were, in addition to the captain, Mrs. Horn, with their two chidren; Miss Horn, a sister; Dr. Waterhouse, Mrs. Waterhouse, and Miss Alice McMahon, a sister of Mrs. Waterhouse. At a point about half a mile off Old Camp Low dock a strong puff of wind caused the sail to gybe and in a moment the little vessel capsized, throwing all on board in the water.

Capt. Horn and Dr. Waterhouse made every effort to save the women and children, but a strong ebb tide quickly swept them beyond reach and before any other help could be had Mrs. Horn, Frances and Miss McMahon were drowned. The others clung to the mast of the capsized vessel for about 15 minutes, until a sailboat containing W. B. Tait of Atlantic Highlands, N. J., and Walter Tubbs of this city came up and rescued Mrs. Waterhouse. At the same time Capt. Hertong with his launch Edna May of Newark, N. J., rescued Capt. Horn and his baby boy, Miss Horn and Dr. Waterhouse, and brought them to Atlantic Highlands.

Soldiers from Fort Hancock and some of the civilians of the reservation went out in boats dragging in the vicinity of the accident, but did not succeed in finding any of the bodies up to a late hour.

DECIDE TO STRIKE.

Chicago Freight Handlers Vote to Quit Work Within Forty-Eight Hours—9,000 Men Involved.

CHICAGO, July 6.—The freight handlers, numbering nearly 9,000 men, employed in the different railway warehouses and depots in Chicago, at a special meeting tonight, decided to go on strike within 48 hours, to enforce their demand for higher wages.

Several days ago the freight handlers' union submitted a proposition to the general managers of the railways, asking for an increase in the scale of wages. The request was refused. The railroad officials, however, offered to confer with committees from their own men, but refused to recognize the union. This was unsatisfactory to the men, as recognition of the union was one of the principal demands made.

CHRISTENING ENDS IN FIERCE RACE BATTLE

One Man Is Dead and Another Hourly Expected to Die.

THIRTY INJURED, THIRTY ARRESTED

Two Men Are Held in the Uniontown Jail Charged With Murder.

SLAVS AND POLES RENEW OLD FUED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Connellsville, Pa., July 6.—A terrible race riot between Slavs and Polish miners and coke workers occurred last night at the Paul mines of the Rainey Company, near Vanderbilt, three miles from here.

The Dead.

The Injured.

VICTOR HENNEL, a Slav, shot through the body; will not live till morning.

THIRTY SLAVS, men and women, injured in the hand-to-hand fight that took place.

Thirty arrests were made today by County Detective Alexander McBeth and Officers Elmer Grimm and Anthony Bonner of Dawson. Jacob Welik and Peter Panik, two Polanders, are charged with the murder of Zovetchin and the fatal wounding of Hennel. They were taken to jail at Uniontown tonight. The others were heavily fined at a hearing before Squire W. H. Wright of Dawson, and some of them will be held as witnesses, perhaps accomplices.

Last night a big christening was held at the home of Frank Letkey, a Slavish boarding house. Beer flowed freely and at 11 o'clock the trouble started. For years there has been bitter feeling between the Slavish and Polish factions at Paul and last night all the old feudal scores were opened up. The Slavs claimed that a number of the Poles had not been invited and a number of the latter left the house. Later, it is alleged, they returned and began a bombardment with stones.

Then the general riot opened. The two victims and Welik and Panik met between two houses, where a number of shots were exchanged. Zovetchin was shot twice through the head and once through the neck, the last shot breaking the spine and killing him instantly.

Hennel's condition was too serious for him to be removed to a hospital and he was left at his home to die. The others scattered and were arrested only after hard work on the part of the officers.

HAMBURG SHIPPING.

Semi-Annual Report Shows It Growing in Number and Tonnage.

BERLIN, July 6.—The semi-annual report of the shipping at the port of Hamburg has just been issued.

It shows that 6,401 vessels arrived at Hamburg for the half year ended June 30, an increase over the same period of last year of 370. The total tonnage which entered the port in the specified time was 4,518,371, an increase over the first six months of 1901 of 159,220 tons.

Now Awaits the Leaders.

OMAHA, NEB., July 6.—The fourth week of the strike of shop men on the Union Pacific railroad began today. Everybody is waiting for the arrival tomorrow of President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and President James O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists. They will confer with the executive committees of the different organizations represented by the strikers.

Will Build Pipe Line.

LEXINGTON, KY., July 6.—At a meeting of representatives of eight companies interested in the Bath county, Kentucky, oil fields, $30,000 was subscribed to construct a pipe line from Ragland to the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad. This will, when completed, put on the market about 1,200 barrels of oil daily. The pipe line will be completed before October.

Killed in His Barn.

WELLS, MINN., July 6.—A wind and rainstorm passed over this section last night doing great damage. Four miles west of town it demolished one of the largest barns in the county, killing E. R. Cook, its owner. His wife and son were also in the barn and were pinioned down by timbers, each unable to assist Mr. Cook. A number of horses and cattle in the barn were also killed.

Machinists Strike Settled.

MARSHALL, TEX., July 6.—The strike of the machinists on the Texas & Pacific railroad, which has been on for two months, was settled tonight after a week's conference between General Manager Thorne and a committee representing the machinists. Both sides made concessions. The strikers are to return to work tomorrow.

Rain Follows the Heat.

MILWAUKEE, July 6.—After a sweltering hot day Milwaukee was visited tonight by a fierce storm of wind and rain. Considerable damage was done about the city. The wires of the Wisconsin Central railroad from Milwaukee north are demolished, and the storm is reported as severe in the northern part of the state.

Arrested for Cutting.

William Wyler was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Jacob Swartz and locked up in No. 3 police station as a suspicious person. Wyler, it is alleged, cut John Hoadick with a knife during a fight in Penn avenu Saturday night. Both men live in Larkins alley. Hoadick's injuries are not serious.

Stabbed in the Lungs.

TIFFIN, O., July 6.—(Special.)—In a fight at Dr Washburn's livery barn about 11 o'clock this morning between William Shafer and W. Daly the latter stabbed Shafer eight times with a pocket knife, two of the stabs penetrating the lungs. The injured man died five hours later and Daly was locked up.

DEATH INTRUDES AT MERRYMAKING AT GRAND FORKS

CASE OF POISONING THE ONLY SOLUTION

Grand Forks, N. D., July 6.—While their son and daughter were entertaining their friends at their home last night, Charles J. McCormick, a Great Northern conductor, and his wife were dying in a bath room upon the same floor. Their bodies were found some hours later by their young son.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormick had been driving in the evening and both appeared to be in excellent health and spirits. Returning home they informed their son and daughter that they were going to take a bath. Later the daughter was asked to bring them some clothing, and this was the last seen of them alive.

The party in the parlor made merry until a late hour and when the guests left Hilby, the son, aged 13, went to call his parents, supposing they had fallen asleep. He could get no response and, becoming alarmed, sought assistance.

When the door of the bath room was forced open Mr. and Mrs. McCormick were found dead. Their bodies were in the bath tub and their clothing scattered about the room. Nearby stood a partly emptied bottle of beer and fragments of a lunch. A physician who was called thought they had been dead two hours. No satisfactory explanation of the tragedy could be given, though the evidence points to poisoning.

Mr. McCormick was one of the oldest conductors on the Great Northern. He was known as President Hill's favorite conductor and was always selected to take charge of the president's private car.

EIGHT CAR LOADS OF TRAMPS WRECKED

Howls of Pain Come From Wreckage, but Most of Them Are Able to Run When Released.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, July 6.—A freight wreck on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway at Ninetieth street today, resulted in the injury of seven men who were beating their way to Chicago. Eight cars filled with tramps were telescoped and shouts of pain came from men buried in the wreckage. Many of them were not severely injured and as soon as they gained their liberty they ran away. Those seriously injured were:

—— PIRE, severely crushed.

FRED TROMBRUSKI, Cleveland, leg broken, face and body cut and bruised and internally injured; may die.

THOMAS TAYLOR, Cleveland, right arm broken, head cut, serious.

JOHN MARTIN, Cleveland, cut and bruised about the body.

MILES GIDDING, Saginaw, Mich., leg crushed and body bruised.

The wreck was caused by the breaking in two of the train while it was going at full speed. There were at least 50 tramps stealing rides in the cars that were derailed and it is remarkable that more were not injured.

PAWTUCKET RIOTERS STOP STREET CARS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PAWTUCKET, R. I., July 6.—Two cars of the United Traction Company were assailed by a mob of 500 men in Saylesville tonight and the crews driven off. The rioters cut the curtains to pieces with knives, broke the ventilator windows and battered the woodwork of the cars.

A wrecker was sent for the cars and this was attacked, but the cars were gotten away.

Two cars were attacked in Central Falls, one each at Lonsdale and in this city despite the efforts of the police to give the employes protection. Finally the running of cars was suspended.

STUDENTS' CONFERENCE.

Meeting Closes at East Northfield, Mass., With a Day of Interesting Addresses—Some Statistics.

EAST NORTHFIELD, MASS., July 6.—The World's Students conference closed today with several sessions of exceptional interest. The morning gathering was addressed by Robert E. Speer, secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, on "The Limitations of Christ." In the afternoon the Rev. John Kolman of Edinburgh university spoke on "Prayer."

The subject of the twilight meeting on Round Top was "Missions," and J. M. Foremon of India and E. C. Carter, general secretary of the Harvard Y. M. C. A., who is to go to India on missionary work, spoke.

The last session was in the auditorium and John R. Mott presided. The short addresses were by Mr. Speer, R. H. Edwards of the Yale Y. M. C. A., E. L. Janeway, who holds a similar position at Princeton, A. E. Paterson of McGill university, Dr. U. Sasamori of Nagasaki, Japan, and Cadet Titus of West Point.

The statistics of the conference are somewhat incomplete, but it is known that 133 institutions have been represented in the conference.

Aztec Off the Rocks.

DETROIT, MICH., July 6.—The steamer Aztec was released from the rocks five miles east of here by the tug General today and proceeded to Sault Ste Marie this evening. A diver will examine her hull at that place, as she is leaking. The wrecker Favorite is working on the steamer J. Emory Owen, ashore at the same place, but has not yet released her.

Some Win Without Striking.

BALTIMORE, MD., July 6.—Pursuant to the ultimatum given the contractors and builders three weeks ago, about 600 carpenters will lay down their tools tomorrow. Six hundred others, employed by 58 firms, will remain at work, their employers having signed a modified agreement. The original demand of the labor union was that the men be paid $3 for an eight-hour day.

IN A ROWBOAT TRACEY TAKES A NEW START

FARMER FORCED TO MAN THE OARS

With Fifteen Hours Start There Is Little Hope of Overtaking Fugitive.

MURDERER SHOWS WONDERFUL NERVE

Seattle, Wash., July 6.—Harry Tracey, the Oregon convict, again has eluded his pursuers, after a display of great daring. His last act was to impress a farm hand into debarking on the sound in a rowboat late yesterday, and at noon today Sheriff Cudihee chartered the tug Sea Lion and with a posse started in pursuit.

According to information received at the sheriff's office today Tracey slept in a cemetery on the outskirts of Seattle, after his battle Thursday night with Seattle officers. Friday morning he proceeded to the ranch of a man named Fisher, secured food and slept and rested in the woods all that day and night. Early Saturday morning he appeared at Meadow Point, in the water front three miles north of Seattle, his original point of landing. There he compelled a Japanese fisher boy to row him to Madison Point, 12 miles across and down the sound from Seattle. He dismissed the boy, declaring that the latter would be killed by Tracey's pal if he told of the trip.

Two to One Easy.

They landed near the home of Rancher Johnson, and Tracy watched the house for an hour to make sure of the number of men there. Finding but two he entered and announced that he intended to kill every one on the ranch and take charge of the place for a few days. He added: "But, after seeing your pretty little girl, I will kill no one if you all mind me. I will be here all day."

"This is not right," declared the convict, "put the table in the middle of the room, and all sit down with me," which was done.

Tracy then read Friday evening's papers, and after learning how Mrs. Van Horn had betrayed his presence in her house to the butcher boy, said he had been careless in not keeping everyone in that house constantly under his eye.

"My carelessness in this respect made it necessary to kill two officers," he said.

He forced the Johnsons to give him a bundle of clothing and hats and six days' supplies of food, clothing and blankets made into bundles.

Takes to the Sound.

At 8 o'clock he bound and tightly gagged the Johnson family, made their hired man, Anderson, carry the bundles to Johnson's rowboat, put Anderson in the boat at the oars and started down the sound.

Mrs. Johnson released herself and the others two hours later, and notified Deputy Sheriff McKay, who lives at Madison Point. McKay secured a boat and sent word to Seattle this morning. Sheriff Cudihee was summoned from Bothell, and at 10:30 o'clock, with several men, started down the sound in the Sea Lion, an electric tugboat, looking for the desperado, and the farmhand. However as Tracy had 15 hours' start it is believed he will make good his escape.

The supposition is that he will row all night, probably kill Anderson, sink the boat and disappear into the wild forests of Northern Washington, where he may live many days on his supply of food.

ONLY HEARSAY EVIDENCE.

Capt. Ryan's Accuser Won't Tell Where He Got His Information.

MANILA, July 6.—The court-martial which is trying Capt. James A. Ryan of the Fifteenth cavalry on the charge of being unnecessarily severe with the natives of the province where he was stationed has admitted for purposes of cross-examination the entire report of Judge Rhode, which forms the basis of the charges against the captain.

The order convening court disregarded all the allegations except the one of cruelty to natives. Judge Rhode has testified that he had no personal knowledge of the facts in the principal allegations, and has declined to give the names of his informants. He admitted and then denied, the right of the defense to require an answer to the question as to where he obtained his information.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION.

American Vessel Aground and English Ship Loses Men.

LONDON, July 6.—The American steamer Rappahannock, Capt. Buckingham, is aground at Holyhead, Wales. As a result of a collision with the British steamer Dalegarth, Capt. Henry, the Rappahannock has a large hole in her port side amidship. The collision occurred off the island of Holyhead. One man was killed and two were injured on board the Dalegarth. This vessel's bows were stove and her forepeak was filled with water. She proceeded for Birkenhead.

The Virginia line steamer Rappahannock, belonging to the Chesapeake & Ohio Steamship Company, limited, sailed from Liverpool yesterday for Newport News.

Centenary of Dumas Pere.

PARIS, July 6.—The centenary of Alexandre Dumas, the elder, was celebrated today at his birthplace, Villers-Cotterets, department of Aisne. The minister of public instruction, M. Chaumie; Victorien Sardou, the playwright, and others, were present and made speeches.

Drowned While Bathing.

TIFFIN, O., July 6.—(Special.)—Carl Martin, aged 9 years, was drowned this afternoon in Nolans creek, a few miles south of town. Martin and four companions were bathing. Martin got in deep water and sank before he could be rescued.

PITTSBURGHER LIKELY TO FILL SHOES OF MILES

Either S. B. M. Young or H. C. Corbin Will Probably Command the Army.

WADE IS A POSSIBILITY

The Administration Just Now Inclined to Promote the Man from the Iron City—Other Prospective Changes.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 6.—Though Lieut.-Gen. Nelson A. Miles will not retire naturally until next summer, it is generally conceded that long before that time the president will determine the question of his successor. Unless circumstances modify the president's wishes, Maj.-Gen. S. B. M. Young of Pittsburgh, who fought under the eye of Col. Roosevelt at Las Guasimas, Cuba, will be the next commanding general of the army.

The promotion of Maj.-Gen. Young will not occur without a fight. Already, in anticipation of presidential decision, friends of several major generals are quietly looking after their interests. One of the strongest possibilities is Maj.-Gen. Henry C. Corbin, adjutant general of the army.

The fact that Gen. Corbin is at the head of a staff corps would seem to the uninitiated to debar him from receiving appointment as commanding general, an office filled in the past by selection from the line. But those who are aware of Gen. Corbin's actual status say he has claims which the president will find it difficult to ignore. Gen. Corbin is not only the adjutant general of the army, but he is also a major general of the line, and the senior major general at that. He obtained this dual rank in 1900, when a provision was inserted in the military academy law prescribing that the officer holding the position of adjutant general should have the rank of major general. The military orders issued by the war department are signed "Henry C. Corbin, adjutant general, major general, U. S. A."

Gen. Corbin's Record.

A person entering Gen. Corbin's office will see a burly figure clad in a major-general's uniform without the shield on the collar denoting that the officer is a member of the adjutant-general's department. Gen. Corbin was appointed a major general on June 6, 1900, and Gen. Young did not attain this rank until February 2, 1901. If the president decides, therefore, as it is claimed he should, that the adjutant-general is also a line officer, then Gen. Corbin will have an excellent chance of succeeding Lieut-Gen. Miles. The custom of assigning the senior major-general to duty as commanding general, which had prevailed for more than 60 years, forced President Cleveland to detail Miles to this office. The same unwritten law may apply in Gen. Corbin's case.

Gen. Young is a warm personal friend of Gen. Corbin, and it is an acknowledged fact that the latter materially aided his brother officer to obtain appointment as major-general. But Gen. Young is ambitious to serve at the head of the army, even though it be for only a few months. If he should be given this high office, he could only fill it for five months, as he will retire in January of 1904. That the administration regards him as the logical successor of Gen. Miles is shown, his friends assert, by his detachment from duty in command of a department and assignment to the position of president of the Army War College, with station in Washington, and the decision to permit him, with Gen. Corbin and Brig.-Gen. Wood, to go to Germany this fall to witness the army maneuvers. He is in training, so to speak, for the office of lieutenant general commanding. The appointment of Gen. Young would remove all claim of Gen. Corbin to this place by virtue of seniority. Maj. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, commanding general of the Philippines, is the immediate junior of Maj.-Gen. Young and Maj.-Gen. Arthur MacArthur, in command of the department of the lakes, is next in rank. Gen. Chaffee will retire on April 14, 1906; Gen. Corbin on September 15 of the same year, and Gen. MacArthur on June 2, 1909.

Famous Ben Wade's Son.

Brig. Gen. James F. Wade, now in the Philippines, who three years ago outranked every major general in the service, will be appointed a major general, the president has announced, next spring, and the son of famous Ben Wade of Ohio will undoubtedly become a formidable candidate for the appointment of commanding general prior to his retirement on April 14, 1907. But before any vacancy occurs in the office of lieutenant general, Secretary Root hopes it will be abolished, and that his plan of a general staff will be authorized by law. Though congress declined during the past winter to pass the bill proposed by the secretary, he intends to urgently recommend its enactment at the coming session. Members of the military committees of the two houses say that Mr. Root will again be disappointed.

Arrangements are being made by Quartermaster General Ludington to provide additional quarters in the United States for troops. The decision of the president to reduce the army in the Philippines to 18,000 men means that there will be stationed within the continental limits of our country a force of more than 45,000 men. The posts now in use are not large enough to accommodate such a force, and Gen. Ludington has been directed to take steps to erect temporary quarters. In compliance with this instruction he proposes to convene a board of officers to determine, first, where the barracks shall be erected and, secondly, the size of the barracks. In the army appropriation act just approved by the president there is an appropriation of $350,000 more than was authorized last year which is to be expended in "the construction and repair of such permanent or temporary buildings at established posts as the secretary of war may deem necessary." As the law specifically limits the expenditure of this appropriation to "established posts" and as, furthermore, there is no money appropriated for the purchase of sites, the department will have to select posts in different sections of the country at which it will enlarge barracks now in use or build new quarters.

Question of Transport Service.

An important effect of the reduction of the force in the Philippines to 18,000 men will be to render unnecessary the maintenance of the transport service on the Pacific. Secretary Root strongly urged congress to grant American registeries to ships employed in this work, but the antagonism to the war department prevailing at the capitol prevented the adoption of the recommendation. An officer of the department pointed out today that as soldiers are enlisted for three years, the annual transporation of men to the east will be limited to about 500 per month, and these can be conveyed to Manila much more economically by private steamship lines than by the government. When there was a large army in the Philippines government transports were able to carry troops to Manila and return them to the United States more cheaply than could be done by contract, but the reduction of the force in the archipelago has given the advantage to the steamship lines. Two steamers of 20,000 tons burden each will soon be running across the Pacific. These are four times larger than any transport in the service of the United States and they will thus be able to accomodate the soldiers without difficulty.

Change in the Uniform.

Secretary Root has received the report of the board of officers, consisting of Maj. Gen. Robert P. Hughes, Col. Thomas H. Barry, adjutant general's department; Lieut. Col. Marion P. Matis, aid-de-camp to Lieut. Gen. Miles; Lieut. Col. William S. Patten, deputy quartermaster general, and Capt. Charles G. Treat, artillery corps, appointed to recommend changes in the uniform of officers and men of the army. The board recommends three important alterations—the ornamentation of the dress coat, the abolition of the helmet and substitution of a suitable cap, and the addition of a woolen uniform of a khaki color, which will be worn for field service by officers and men serving in cool climates. This last uniform is intended to take the place of the khaki used in Porto Rico and the Philippines. Other changes of a minor character are also made. In view of the fact that officers have to pay for every stitch of clothing they wear and that changes directed by the war department are mandatory and necessitate, sometimes, the purchase of new uniforms, there is something of a protest being made, which, however, will be ineffective.

Adjutant General in Philippines.

Col. John B. Babcock, assistant adjutant general and adjutant general of the department of California, will be ordered to Manila for duty as adjutant general of the division of the Philippines. In military circles in Washington the belief prevails that Col. Babcock will decline to go to Manila, in which event he will be placed on the retired list. An officer of the adjutant general's department, whether Col. Babcock or some one else, must go to the east to relieve Col. William P. Hall, who has been selected to serve as the senior assistant to the adjutant general at the war department, a position which until his appointment as brigadier general, was held by Lieut. Col. William H. Carter. Friends of Col. Babcock are confident that he will obey orders wherever they may require him to go. They point out that he has much to lose by retirement, as he will be the senior colonel of his department when Col. Thomas Ward is promoted to the grade of brigadier general, which is expected shortly to occur, and will, consequently, be in line for appointment as adjutant general. Col. Hall is a son-in-law of Senator Blackburn of Kentucky, and it is expected that the senator will, when the opportunity comes, use his influence to see that Col. Hall's record and ability are not overlooked.

To Reward Faithful Service.

When Maj. Valentine McNally, ordnance storekeeper, is retired on account of age on October 18, 1903, it will be with the rank of lieutenant colonel. The army appropriation law, enacted a few days ago, contains a provision that "when the ordnance storekeeper with the rank of major, now on duty as disbursing officer and assistant to the chief of ordnance, is retired, he shall be retired with the rank of lieutenant colonel." This provision was placed in the law upon the initiative of the secretary of war, who desired to show his appreciation for the faithful service rendered by this officer.

The United States forces in the Philippines may be provided with bolos to use in skirmishes with the Ladrones still in the field. Brig. Gen. Crozier, chief of ordnance, recently received recommendations from officers serving in the archipelago that bolos be issued to their commands. They assert that the weapons would be useful for cutting undergrowth as well as in engagements with the enemy. In compliance with the recommendations Gen. Crozier has given instructions for the manufacture of 50 bolo bayonets, with two cutting edges, which will be sent to Manila for experimental purposes. Should favorable reports be received, the department will supply the new weapon to all the troops in the islands.

Mirror Plant Gutted.

The plant of the Standard Mirror Company at Torrens street and the Pennsylvania railroad, was damaged by fire to the extent of $8,000 yesterday afternoon. The flames broke out in the second floor, used principally as a stock room, from some unknown cause, and before the fire was gotten under control the entire floor was gutted. The loss on stock will amount to $2,500, and the damage on the building will be about $500.

Caught Between Cars.

Miss Lily Linn of Boquet street, McKees Rocks, was caught between two cars on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad near her home last night and badly crushed.

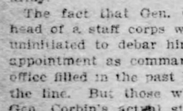
THE WEATHER.



Showers.

The hottest day of the year so far was yesterday, but Washington predicts slightly cooler weather for today, with showers. The temperature was generally hot, but there was a remarkable change between 1 and 2 p. m., when the mercury dropped from 93 degrees to 76. Immediately thereafter, however, it went up again, reaching 91 by 4 p. m.

The following are some of the readings of the Gazette's weather service thermometer at Kaufmann's corner.

STEEL ORDERED FOR THE START OF A BIG PLANT

Power House of the Pittsburgh Railways Co. Will be Largest in World.

WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE

American Bridge Company' Given Contract for 1,200 Tons of Structural Material—Coal is to be Used Exclusively For Fuel in Station.

The Philadelphia Company, in the name of its subsidiary interest, the Pittsburgh Railways Company, has just placed the contract with the American Bridge Company, for the initial steel construction for what is to be the greatest electric light and traction power house in the country. The first cost of this plant to be erected on Brunots island, is estimated at $1,500,000.

The contract, which was closed on Saturday, provides for the heavy steel superstructure of a building, 400x200 feet. This will take about 1,200 tons of structural steel, and the erection will cost about $150,000. Contracts for boilers, engines, heavy dynamos and other apparatus to be installed will be let in a short time.

Work on the building is to be started without delay and is to be brought to completion by the first of March. Along the Ohio Connecting railroad bridge overhead, a great trestle will be erected. From this automatic conveyers will carry a constant supply of coal under the boilers. It is now planned to use coal exclusively for fuel, although for a time it was said that gas was to be employed.

The power plant will be greater in extent than anything of the kind now in operation in any part of the world. Some larger ones are planned, and some in course of construction, but in comparison with those now active, this will be the largest. The first installation will provide for engine power of 20,000 horsepower, soon to be increased to 60,000.

The plant will displace all the plants for similar purposes everywhere on the system of the Philadelphia Company, except in Pittsburgh proper. The existing Pittsburgh plants will remain for the present, but ultimately all this power will be supplied from Brunots island. The abandonment of the present power houses will be a gradual process, it being intended to avoid entire dependence on the new plant till it has had a long and satisfactory test in operation.

The site, all of Brunots island, was purchased by the Philadelphia Company a good many months ago, and in February the company had come to definite decision to erect some such gigantic power house. Since then the plans have been amplified and frequently revised, and are only now being completed. The work is in charge of Second Vice President S. L. Tone and Engineer F. Uhlenhaut, of the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

THE POPE PRESIDES.

Great Flock of Pigeons Released to Spread News Trough Europe of Coronation Anniversary.

ROME, July 6.—All the members of the American college in Rome, including the Rev. Dr. Thomas Kennedy, rector of the college, and Fathers McCate, McCourt and Mullin of Philadelphia, were present this evening at the fetes held at the Vatican in celebration of the 24th anniversary of the coronation of the pope. The entire papal court and thousands of members of all the Catholic societies represented in Rome, assembled this evening in the great Belvidere court of the Vatican and paid homage to his holiness.

The pope occupied an especially-constructed and richly-decorated gallery. He was greeted with enthusiastic acclamations and the band played the pontifical march. A chorus composed for the occasion was sung by a choir of several hundred pupils from all the clerical schools in Rome, who defiled before the pope, carrying banners.

The fete was brought to a close by the pope pronouncing a pontifical blessing, after which he was again acclaimed. A great flock of pigeons, sent to Rome from all the chief towns of Italy, was then released. The pigeons flew off to their homes, each one bearing an announcement that the ceremonies had taken place.

The pope, who was delighted with the fete, was in excellent health, and his physicians announce that he has improved both in health and spirits in the past year.

PRODDING GARDENER.

Major-Governor Promises to Answer Inquiry—Court's Demand for Testimony Today.

MANILA, July 6.—The cross-examination of Maj. Cornelius Gardener, governro of Tayabas province, Luzon, by the board which has been investigating the charges of cruelty brought by the major against American officers and soldiers has been completed. The board had again formally demanded the production by Maj. Gardener of testimony as to the alleged hostility of the military authorities in the Philippines to the civil government. Maj. Gardener has promised to answer this demand July 7. He testified that he had not intended to reflect upon the fairness of the court, and that the recorder had not, to his knowledge, interfered with his witnesses.

A number of the former followers of the insurgent general Lukban, who operated and was finally captured on the island of Samar, are being examined here on the charge of misappropriation of revolutionary funds. Gen. Chaffee has permitted Lukban to go through the captured insurgent archives in Manila to obtain documents to show the innocence of his followers.

TWO ARMY SUICIDES.

One of Them, Capt. John H. Shallenberger, a Native of Pensylvania. Died in Mindanao.

MANILA, July 6.—Capt. John H. Shallenberger of the Tenth infantry committed suicide by shooting at Iligan in the island of Mindanao July 4. He acted from despondency.

Second Lieutenant Thomas Ryan of the Philippine scouts also committed suicide by shooting in the interior of the island of Mindanao June 18.

Capt. John H. Shallenberger was a native of Pennsylvania, from which state he was appointed a cadet in the military academy in 1879. After his graduation from the academy he was assigned to the Tenth infantry, with which regiment he served continuously, rising to the rank of captain in 1898.

Autopsy Was Ordered.

At the instance of the coroner Dr. C. S. Boggs yesterday afternoon held an autopsy on the body of Mrs. Lille Riley, who died Saturday evening at the house of G. W. Bruner of 641 Second avenue. It was claimed the woman died of injuries sustained by being beaten. The autopsy showed, however, that while there were several bruises on her body, none of them was sufficient to cause her death.

WILL WED HER RESCUER.

MISS MARY C. PIERCE.

DES MOINES, July 6.—The wedding of Miss Mary Pierce to Lieutenant Harold Hammond, of the Ninth infantry, will take place on the evening of July 9. Miss Pierce was a guest of Minister Conger during the siege of Peking, and Lieutenant Hammond was one of the rescuing party. The couple will locate at West Point, where the lieutenant has lately been assigned to duty as instructor in Spanish.

COMES TO MEET PROXY HUSBAND

MRS. LIEDER BECOMES A BRIDE WITH GROOM 3,000 MILES AWAY.

Such Marriages Not a Great Novelty in Curacao, and the Man Who Acted as Proxy in This Affair Has Quite a Record.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 6.—Among the passengers who arrived on the Philadelphia of the Red D line tonight from Curacao, Porto Rico and South American ports, was Mrs. O. S. Aranjo de Lieder of Curacao, a bride of a fortnight, who comes to join her husband in New York.

Mrs. Lieder was married June 25 by proxy at Curacao. She is a member of one of the most important families of that little Dutch island and, although it seems proxy weddings are not rare there, nearly everyone of any consequence on the island witnessed the ceremony.

Mr. Lieder, who is in business in New York, is a native of Curacao, where he and Miss Aranjo became engaged. A short time ago he wrote her that he was ready to make her his wife and asked her to come north to meet him, but she was unwilling to make the voyage alone and besides she wished to be married after the custom of her islands.

So a proxy ceremony was agreed upon. Mr. Luis O. Negron stood in the place of the absent groom and the knot was tied securely, although the groom was 2,000 miles away. Mr. Negron, who is the bride's brother-in-law, accompanied Mrs. Lieder to New York. He is unmarried but has represented five grooms at as many proxy weddings, so the interesting ceremony was no novelty to him. After the civil ceremony the church rites were solemnized.

KING STILL IMPROVES.

Departure of Indian Troops Postponed Indefinitely—May Yet Be Present at Coronation.

LONDON, July 6.—King Edward's progress toward recovery tonight continues to be good. It is said that if his improvement proceeds at the present rate he will probably, by the end of the month, be well enough to be transferred to the royal yacht in Southampton waters.

Tonight Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria visited Mariborough house, where they attended divine service with the prince and princess of Wales.

Most of the churches in the United Kingdom celebrated today the announcement that King Edward is out of danger, with informal thanksgiving services, special music and the singing of the national anthem.

The government has issued orders that the Indian and colonial troops now in London, shall postpone their departure indefinitely. These orders are due to the strongly expressed desire of the Indian troops, especially, to see the King before they return home, and they also indicate an intention to retain the troop here until the coronation. The colonial and Indian troops will participate in the reception to be given Lord Kitchener when he arrives in England, about July 12.

Coronation Honors for Princes.

LONDON, July 6.—Among the decorations and gifts given to the foreign envoys to the coronation of King Edward, the Most Noble Order of the Garter was bestowed upon the Grand Duke Michael, heir presumptive to the throne of Russia; the duke of Aosta of Italy; the crown prince of Portugal, and Archduke Franz of Austria.

END OF TUNNEL DIGGING IN SIGHT

EXCAVATION FOR NEW YORK SUBWAY WELL ADVANCED.

Likely to Be Finished Before Snow Flies. Part of It Below Water Level—Most Difficult Part of the Job Reserved for the Last.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 6.—Excavation for the rapid transit tunnel railroad will have been finished before the first snowfall. When the tunnel itself is completed John B. McDonald will have in hand about $7,000,000 of the $25,000,000 appropriated by the city for constructing the tunnel.

Operations have proceeded far enough to warrant these two predictions, and it is probable that the promise of the company which is to operate the road, that it will have trains running before January 1, 1904, will be more than made good. Except a few points where digging has been deferred, this part of the work is so nearly finished that its end is plainly in sight.

Of the 1,700,000 yards of earth that were to be removed when the task of construction began in earnest, in June, 1900, about 1,400,000 yards have been excavated. The rock excavated is not so well advanced, only about half the estimated 1,100,000 yards having been taken out.

Of the earth that remains to be excavated to clear the way for the tunnel, the largest and most important stretch is in the section in Elm street from Worth to Spring streets. The bed of the tunnel there for a quarter of a mile will dip below the water line. This is due to the valley at the bottom of which is Canal street. Owing to the necessity of building the subway here practically under water the section is regarded by William Barclay Parsons as one of the most difficult of the entire route; and work there has been delayed until the sub-contractor can devote his entire attention to it.

NEW YANKEE INVASION.

Attempt to Gain Control of Smithfield Meat Market in London Thwarted.

LONDON, July 7.—The Daily Mail this morning connects the effort to buy out Fowler Bros., the leading local provision firm of Liverpool, by Gustavus Franklin Swift, president of Swift & Co., of Chicago, with the attempts which have been made for a year past on the part of certain Americans to obtain control of Smithfield meat market, London.

These attempts, according to the paper, led the city corporation six months ago to pass a resolution that in the future stalls in Smithfield market must be carried on in the name of the real owner, and not in that of his nominee, and temporarily to forbid any further transfers of stalls.

LOVE AND CHLOROFORM.

Combination Fails to Secure a Bride for Peter Dempsey.

BUTTE, MONT., July 6.—An attempt was made at an early hour this morning to chloroform a family of seven persons with the object, it is presumed, of abducting Eva McCaffrey, a quarter-breed Indian girl.

The prepetrator is believed to have been Peter Dempsey, a condemned murderer, who escaped from the county jail a year ago. The man was frightened away and escaped. Dempsey was enamored of the girl prior to his arrest.

NOTABLE WORK DONE IN PARIS.

Judge Holme's Success in Raising Money for the McKinley National Memorial—Large Contributions by Americans.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 6.—Judge Leicester Holme, honorary secretary of the Paris auxiliary to the McKinley National Memorial Association, has just transmitted to the secretary of the association a remarkable report covering the transactions of his branch from the inception of the work to its close on June 1. The contributors to the Paris fund were, with a few exceptions, Americans living in France. The individual subscriptions varied from 1,000 to 5,000 francs, the only donation of the last named sum being made by Frank L. Gardner. Joseph A. Bailey, the circus man, gave 1,000 francs. Ambassador Porter and Consul General Goudy were also large contributors. Only six states in the union have so far contributed as much as Judge Holme secured from the American colony in the French capital, a manifestation of patriotism that defies geographical limits.

Judge Holme, whose wholly gratuitous efforts brought about this striking result, is a retired New Yorker. He is 45 years old, but calls himself an "old Tammany man." He was the predecessor of Judge Augustus Van Wyck as judge of the city court of New York, but left the bench a number of years ago and has since lived the life of a true dilettante in his beautiful residence in the Bois de Boulogne.

PEOPLE THINK DEATH RIDES ON ELEVATED

IS SECURELY LOCKED IN

The New York Unions Are Trying to Force an Extra Man in the Booth and the Passengers Would Also Have It So.

New York, July 6.—A great many people who travel on the Manhattan are trying to figure out just what would happen if the motorman, who is shut up in a little box at the forward end of the front car, should fall dead or otherwise become incapacitated. Some of the local labor unions are already agitating local legislation compelling the placing of two men in the compartment, so that if one should be unable to attend to his duty the other could promptly take it up. The labor unions are especially inspired to make this demand in the interests of firemen who will be thrown out of employment when the electric service becomes general on the Manhattan system. The public is interested in what might happen if the motorman did die, say, on a down grade.

The motorman is in a tiny compartment at the forward end of the motor car. These compartments have glass windows, but one of the rules of the company is that the motorman shall pull down the shades on the inside windows so that none of the passengers can see him while he is on duty.

Securely Locked In.

The motorman even goes so far as to lock himself in the compartment. The object of this is not quite clear. A motorman who came in on a Third avenue train last night when asked why he locked himself in in this fashion, and pulled down the shades, replied:

"Company's orders. Don't know the reason."

The general belief is that the company thinks it will get better service out of the motormen if they are where they cannot see the passengers and where the passengers cannot see or speak to them.

The controller used on the elevated trains is unlike any used hereabouts before. It guards against danger from the sudden death or inability of the motorman to this extent, that the moment the motorman lets go of the controller, the power is cut off. Over the handle of the controller is a second handle which operates like an ordiary push-button. Before he can get any power the motorman has to push this handle down on a level with the controller. The moment he lets go of the controller this second handle, which operates on a spring, flies up again, and the power is shut off. So even if the train was going at speed, the moment the motorman lets go, as he would in case of death or a faint, the power would cease.

Nothing to Stop It.

The train, however, would run on until its momentum was exhausted, and as Manhattan trains are heavy most of the time, and as they encounter many steep grades, a great many nervous persons think that an extra motorman ought to be on duty, or some contrivance should be added, by means of which brakes would be set the moment the motorman lets go of the controller.

If a motorman collapsed in sight of the passengers, it would be possible to run into the compartment, if unlocked, and apply the brakes before any damage could be done. As it is now, the first intimation that something had happened to the motorman would be the running by a station, and then it would be necessary to smash in the door of his booth before anything more effective than the application of the hand brakes could be done.

WILL BURN FOR DAYS.

Water Front Fire at Lourenzo Marques Beyond Control of Portuguese Authorities.

LOURENZO MARQUES, PORTUGUESE, EAST AFRICA, July 6.—The fire which began here July 3 and which by the following day had destroyed British stores valued at over £500,000, shows little sign of abating and is likely to burn for some days to come.

In the event of a change of wind several other storage yards, where many thousand feet of timber and other goods are stored, will become involved. The fire brigade is powerless to control the flames, which, towering to a great height, completely illuminate the bay.

THREE TOLEDO FATALITIES.

Two Young Men Drowned and Another Killed by a Car.

TOLEDO, O., July 6.—Two young men, Walter Arnold and an unknown companion, were drowned this evening while swimming in the Maumee river. The bodies have not been recovered.

Bernard McMahon, aged 20 years, while standing on the footboard of a street car was struck by a passing car and instantly killed this evening.

Dragged Under Train.

A man, supposed to be Eugene McCantry, was struck by a train at the Anderson street, Allegheny, crossing of the West Penn railroad, about 10:15 o'clock last night and so badly injured that he may die. He attempted to cross the tracks when the train caught him and dragged him about 20 yards. He was taken to the Allegheny General hospital and had not regained consciousness up to midnight. There was nothing about him to identify him.

Boy's Tongue Torn Out.

David Kerr, two years old, son of Robert Kerr of Linden street, McKees Rocks, was playing see-saw at his home yesterday afternoon. The board broke when he was in the air and he fell on a picket fence. One of the pailings penetrated the lower part of his face, tearing out his tongue, and lacerating the roof of his mouth.

The Kaiser's Norwegian Cruise.

BERLIN, July 6.—Emperor William will start on his voyage to Norway on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern tomorrow.

Salt Rheum

You may call it eczema, tetter or milk crust.

But no matter what you call it, this skin disease which comes in patches that burn, itch, discharge a watery matter, dry and scale, owes its existence to the presence of humors in the system.

It will continue to exist, annoy, and perhaps agonize, as long as these humors remain.

It is always radically and permanently cured by which expels all humors, and is positively unequaled for all cutaneous eruptions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

LOST PEOPLE ARE A POLICE FEATURE

SEVERAL BECAME MUCH BEWILDERED ON THE FOURTH.

Dunbar Man Lost His Wife at Schenley Park—Greensburg Boy in Hard Luck. Children and Women Who Don't Know Where They Live in Hands of Police.

Lena Shaw, a 15-year-old girl of McKeesport, who got lost at Kennywood park on the Fourth and was cared for at the police station, was returned to her father, Joseph Frew, yesterday. The girl was unable to tell where she lived.

Maggie Bright of No. 2216 Tustin street, 7 years of age, was found on Market street at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, having wandered away from home early in the evening.

Frank Philpone, an Italian boy 13 years old, was found at Union station Saturday night. His home is at Greensburg and in coming to the city on the Fourth he lost his ticket and spent all his money. He is at Central station.

Mary Ferguson, a woman about 75 years of age, was found on Wood street, near Fifth avenue, Saturday night. She had no money and was also sent to Central station. She says her home is in Bellefield avenue, but the police were unable to find it.

Still another woman, apparently a Hungarian and unable to speak English, was found at Penn avenue and Sixth street at noon yesterday and was sent to the station. She had been standing about the corner for three hours. She is about 30 years of age.

Joseph Cartwright of Dunbar left word with the police on Saturday that he had lost his wife at Schenley park on the Fourth. She had no money and her husband had her return ticket, but as nothing has been heard of her the police think she got home all right. She is 45 years old.

WITHDRAWING FRIARS.

Vatican Considers a Plan for Having the General of Each Order Transact the Business.

ROME, July 6.—The vatican is striving to find a compromise between satisfying the desires of Washington, as set forth by Judge William H. Taft, governor of the Philippines, and relieving the holy see from direct responsibility for the withdrawal of the friars from the Philippine archipelago. Several plans to this end have been discussed by the vatican authorities.

The most acceptable of these is that the generals of the four religious orders concerned, having been informed of Washington's request, shall themselves order the withdrawal of their dependents, who now number about 500. This plan would require a letter from the general of each order to Gov. Taft, pledging the writer to this action, or the insertion of a clause in the contract between Judge Taft and the vatican that steps to this end will be taken immediately by the generals when they are aware of the wishes of the United States. The vatican would thus be under no odium, the pope merely accepting an accomplished fact.

BANDITS' BOOTY FOUND.

Good Evidence That Rock Island Train Robbers Are Not Far Away from Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Watches, knives and jewelers' supplies, part of the plunder secured by the bandits who robbed the express safe in the Rock Island train at Dupont on Thursday night, have been found and the indications are that the desperadoes are near Chicago.

A sack containing the plunder was discovered today on the farm of Henry Schultz, three and one-half miles north of Tinley Park, by Dexter Manard, a farmer, who lives within a half mile of the place where the train was held up.

VIOLA ALLEN AND DUSE.

One in London to Get Play Pointers—The Other Coming to America.

ROME, July 6.—Viola Allen, the actress, is at present in Rome getting points for her presentation of Hall Caine's drama, "The Eternal City," which she will bring out next September.

Eleanora Duse, with a company of 30 persons, will sail for the United States September 20 to begin her tour in that country. She will open in the Tremont Street theater, Boston, October 20, in D'Annunzio's "Gioconda."

Uncle Sam a Good Customer.

BERLIN, July 6.—The total of Germany's exports to the United States for the year ended June 30, is $101,714,064, an increase of $1,827,050 over the amount for the year ended June 30, 1901. The exports of this last year reach the record figure. In 1898 they amounted to $74,250,000; in 1899, to $84,000,000; in 1900, to $98,890,000, and in 1901, to $99,887,014.

Bonfire Causes Death.

OBERLIN, O., July 6.—Mrs. D. L. Leonard, wife of a prominent Congregational minister of this city, died today from the effects of burns received yesterday afternoon while starting a bonfire.

MONACO'S WIFE BOUND TO LOSE MANY MILLIONS

Huge Fortune That Was Hers in Part Now Reverts to the Prince.

WILL MARRY A COMPOSER

He Calls Himself De Lara, but His Real Name Is Isadore Cohen of Lava, Portugal—Some Interesting History of a Princely Family.

Castellane, Marlborough and Colonna, who are often mentioned as having sold their titles for American dollars, are mere orphan boys compared with the gambler-prince of Monaco. Albert I., prince of Monaco, duke of Valentinois, Marquis Des Paux, count of Carlades, Baron De Buis and seigneur of half a dozen other places recorded on no map or chart, just transferred 30,000,000 francs heretofore held in common between him and his American ex-wife, Alice, nee Heine, of New Orleans, to his own personal account, says a letter from Nice in the New York Sun. And the bankers' family, having no alternative, acceded to this frightful slaughter of a purely American fortune, while the civil court of the principality ratified the arrangement and decreed that her highness-that-was shall have no further interest in the name and dignity, the castles, palaces, lands, treasures and chattels of any kind appertaining to the royal family.

Alice Heine, then, paid for 12 years of "wedded bliss" on the tiniest and least reputable throne in the world at the rate of $500,000 per annum, the identical amount her husband charges the "Sea-b[illegible] society" for the gambling privileges. It's almost inconceivable that a shrewd American father should have signed a marriage contract of that sort, but Heine did it, so that there was no getting out of it on any pretext whatever.

"If the duchess of Richelieu, nee Heine, leaves her serene highness, or gives him just cause for divorce, according to the laws of the principality, the party of the first part shall be entitled to her marriage portion, amounting to 80,000,000 of francs, which is herewith turned over to the minister of the princely house in bonds and securities, as follows," etc. So reads the document, gotten up by one of the shrewdest of Italian lawyers.

Forfiet Is Enormous.

The amount of the "forfeit" is as staggering as it is unprecedented. Even the beggar king of Servia asked but half that amount when he offered to make Miss Pullman his bride, a figure the late sleeping car magnate thought quite reasonable. The Chicago girl was to become a majesty under the name and title conferred on George Pullman by papal breve.

The prince will invest the American millions right royally. After setting aside $3,000,000 for the heir to the throne he will devote the rest to scientific investigation and discovery. As Alice Heine loves science and is deeply interested in every line of progress the appropriation of one-half of her dower for scientific ends will not worry her much, but that the other half should go to the boy responsible for the prince's determination to divorce her is an awful blow to the proud woman. For it was her quondam stepson, Prince Louis, who provoked the scandal that eventually drove De Lara and the princess out of Monte Carlo. Prince Louis is the son of Albert and Lady Mary Douglas Hamilton, his first wife, who, after the annulment of her marriage with Monaco by the vatican, married Count Festetics of Austria. Louis is still very young, but it angered him to see the intendant of the opera strut about his father's place as if he owned it. In the fall of 1899, when De Lara recorded his first widely-advertised success, "Messalina," it came to a clash between the composer and the hereditary prince, then only 19 years old.

A Family Scene.

"Messalina" had been brought out at a cost of 1,900,000 francs, and Louis, ascertaining that the Casino people paid only half that amount, while the royal exchequer footed the rest of the bill, refused to congratulate is mother's protege, whereupon the latter complained. The princess tried to persuade Louis to say a few complimentary words to De Lara, but in vain. Princess Alice had hysterics, and her cries bringing De Lara upon the scene, he ventured to upbraid Louis. That was more than the prince could stand. Calling his servants, he bade them to eject the "impudent fiddler," an order that was executed with promptness and dispatch, for the servants hated De Lara on account of his arrogance and penurious habits.

"He shall not be maltreated in my house."

Prince Louis—Madame, this is the palace of the sovereigns of Monaco. They have lived here for six hundred years and more."

Princess Alice—If he goes—I go.

Prince Louis—That is your highness' business. Meanwhile I will see to it that the rest of the baggage is cleared out.

And Prince Louis sent for the governor of the palace, Capt. Joanmaatre, and ordered him to give the De Lara family their walking papers, and Isidore, as well as his mother and sister, had to leave the same evening. Princess Alice was as good as her word. Shortly after the scene mentioned she quitted the principality and did not return for twelve months.

Personally the princess is a most attractive woman. She is short, petite and blonde, and is generally taken for a high-bred English woman by strangers. She reads and writes English, German, French and Italian, handling one language as easily and as gracefully as the other. While her education was fundamentally good, her knowledge in many branches of science is truly astonishing. Scientific men are her natural friends. She is now 44, but looks younger. No one would suspect her of having a son, the duke of Richelieu, about to be declared of age.

To Reform Puppet Kingdom.

Princess Alice was 20 when she first met the prince of Monaco. His hand she accepted in the hope of reforming the gambler-kingdom and, as the wife of an absolute monarch, became a real mother of her subjects. With these laudable ends in view, she wouldn't listen to the contrary advice of her family, and after a time persuaded her shrewd old father to sign the marriage contract already set forth. Her awakening from her dreams of empire was both sudden and unpleasant. She had no sooner entered her "states," when the "Sea Bath Society," owners of the Casino and the rest of the country, gave her to understand that there was nothing to govern or experiment with—the society attended to all that. Albert, furthermore, had just previous to his marriage signed away his sovereign rights for another 30 years in exchange for a revenue of $500,000 per annum. Princess Alice was deeply chagrined—she resented her husband's "treachery," as she called the renewal of the contract without her knowledge or consent. But the wily Italian only smiled.

However, when the Casino monarchs observed that the princess might make trouble if left wholly without employment, they offered her the position of sovereign in the realms of art. She was given carte blanche to install a grand opera, to engage whomsoever she pleased and to play what she pleased—as long as Monte Carlo was well advertised, the gambling company would foot the bill. Thereupon her highness traveled to London and Paris in search of operatic material. She found De Lara, and the rest is known.

Real Name Is Cohen.

De Lara is a fine-looking, big fellow, with a wealth of very engaging black curls, burning dark eyes, and a beautiful baritone voice. His real name is Isidore Cohen, and Lara, Portugal, is his birthplace. He studied music in Paris and composition in Milan. When the princess first saw him he was a music teacher and parlor entertainer in London.

The relations of the couple might have escaped public attention for many more years if De Lara had not insisted on bringing his whole family to Monaco.

The prince is a gray, somber and exceedingly dirty man. No one ever knew who wore his clean collars and cuffs. But he is also very learned, very serious and extremely bashful. Possibly he would have made a good German professor, but as a husband he is a sad failure. Lady Mary Douglas Hamilton ran away from him on the morning after the wedding night.

When at home he surrounds himself with aid-de-camps and bodyguards to emphasize his princely dignity, and with bishops and monks to show that he is a good son of the Catholic church. But he is seldom at home. The greater part of the year he chases over the Mediterranean, dragging the bottom of the sea for bugs and plants, of which he has an immense collection. He poses most successfully as a savant, but, as his contracts show, is not a bad business man, either.

Perhaps he will marry a third time. He is only 54 years of age and, excepting a few emperors and kings, his income exceeds that of most European monarchs. Besides, it is independent of politics. People will gamble, whether republic or monarchy keeps school. After the departure of De Lara, Albert invited the great Massenet to his palace. The writer saw the composer of the "Jongleur of Notre Dame" yesterday standing at the window of one of the rooms formerly occupied by Isidore Cohen of Lara, Portugal.

POSTAL TAKES CHARGE OF ITS NEW OFFICES

First Step in Transfer of P. R. R. Rights from the Western Union.

4,700 OFFICES INVOLVED

New Lessee Begins Stringing of 12,000 Miles of Wires, and Different Offices Will Be Transferred as Fast as Wiring Is Completed.

At last midnight the Postal Telegraph Cable Company made the first move which signalizes great inroads that it is to make in the business of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The Postal company opened at that hour offices in the Union station, Pittsburgh, at Harrisburg station and at the Broad street station, Philadelphia, of the Pennsylvania railroad. Offices will be opened at Jersey City, Washington and Baltimore stations today. This will go on until the Postal has established 4,700 new offices, along the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad system, east of Pittsburgh and Erie. These offices will be transferred from the Western Union to the Postal company.

The change will mean something like 10,000 additional employes for the Postal company, together with additions in revenue of millions of dollars annually. The Postal company has started out, along the rights of way of the Pennsylvania system east of Pittsburgh, an army of linemen to string its wires, which, as soon as they are up, will displace those of the Western Union.

Initial Cost $1,000,000.

The initial cost of this work will be approximately $1,000,000, while it will add millions of dollars yearly to the gross earning of the company. At first the wires will be strung on the poles of the Pennsylvania railroad, and later they will be transfered to new poles, which the Postal will put up in place of the Western Union poles, which must be out of the way in less than six months. The final cost will be many times the [illegible].

No. 9 guage copper wire that will string for a distance of 12,000 miles has been ordered by the Postal, to be run along the Pennsylvania railroad rights of way. This material alone is costing upward of $500,000. The work of its construction will probably take a greater time than for the Western Union to remove its old wires and poles. Meantime, for business between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia and intermediate points the Western Union is stringing new wires, along the old pike system, secured by it in the acquisition of the American Rapid Telegraph company years ago.

Gave Up Its Rights.

The Postal formerly had six wires along this pike, while the Western Union had four and the Postal abandoned the rights of way for the system which is now uses.

Under the cancelation of the contract between the Western Union Telegraph Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company the Western Union has six months from June 1 in which to remove all its wires, poles and offices from the rights of way of the Pennsylvania railroad. As is quite well known, this was brought about by the failure of the Pennsylvania interests to secure an agreement from George Gould to keep his railway system out of Pittsburgh and certain other territory and since which the Pennsylvania interests have been fighting all progress of the Wabash railroad by establishing surveys which were expected to block the Wabash. An army of engineers has been constantly kept at this work.

An Important Move.

From this time on the Postal Telegraph Company will get all the general commercial and railroad business which the Pennsylvania can deliver it. At points on the rights of way where the Western Union wires continue in commission and the Postal cannot reach the Western Union will continue to supply the service, but this will be the business of lesser importance.

Under the terms of the old Pennsylvania-Western Union contract it is understood the telegraph company handled $100,000 of the business of the railroad each year without cost. The new rearrangement with the Postal is being held as a business secret between executives of the Postal company and the Pennsylvania railroad.

In its deal with the Pennsylvania the Postal secures its first important railroad right of way east of the Mississippi river. It has valuable railroad rights west. The new Pacific ocean cable, already under construction, between San Francisco, Hawaii and the Philippines, and which will be under control of the Postal company, will add still more to its sphere of commercial importance.

AGUINALDO FREE, BUT THE PRISONER OF HIS COWARDICE

Afraid to Visit His Friends or the Acting Governor, Except at Night.

FEARS VENGEANCE OF LUNA'S FRIENDS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANILA, July 6.—As a result of the proclamation of amnesty July 4, the guard of American soldiers has been withdrawn from the house, where Aguinaldo lived in Manila, and Lieut. Johnson, Aguinaldo's custodian, brought the Filipino today to see Gen. Chaffee. It was the first meeting between the American general and the leader of the Filipino insurrection. Lieut. William E. McKinley, of the Ninth cavalry, acted as interpreter.

Aguinaldo was told that he was free to go anywhere he pleased, and Gen. Chaffee asked him if he had any complaint to make of American discourtesy or harshness. Aguinaldo replied that he had no such complaint to make. He told Gen. Chaffee he was going to visit friends at his home in Cavite Viejo, in Cavite province, and inquired what protection the American authorities would afford him. He seemed to be afraid to venture out. Gen. Chaffee replied that Aguinaldo would get the same protection as any other citizen.

The former Filipino leader then asked Gen. Chaffee to prevent the courts from requiring him to testify in civil suits. Gen. Chaffee replied that he had no authority to grant this request, and advised Aguinaldo to make a social call upon Acting Civil Governor Wright. This Aguinaldo said he would do, but that he would go at night, as he was timid about appearing on the streets in daylight.

The release of the former Filipino leader has renewed speculation as to possible vengeance upon him by friends of Luna and his other enemies. Luna was a Filipino leader whom Aguinaldo caused to be killed in 1899.

What the Miner Really Makes.

There is a wide difference of opinion regarding the actual wages of the striking anthracite miner. The nominal wages as figured by the operator vary from $50 to $75 a month. The actual wages as figured by the miner vary from $30 to $38 a month. This difference is due to the fact that the operator figures on the basis of full time, while the fact is that the miner rarely makes full time, and is compelled to figure according to the actual number of days he has worked, which in the past 10 years have averaged little over 15 days to the month. The report of the Pennsylvania bureau of mines and mining for 1899 shows that the average wages of the miner for that year would not exceed $283, an average of $23 71 per month. Peter Roberts, in his recent publication on the Anthracite Coal Industry, gives the average monthly earnings fo the miner for the year 1898 as $34 10, and that of the day laborer is $22 40—an average of $1 37 per day for the miner and 90 cents for the laborer. I take from my notebook the following statement made by an old miner whose word cannot be questioned:

Family of six:

Average monthly wages for 12 months—November, 1900 to November, 1901, $36 Rent, 84 50; clothes and shoes, $6; doctors and medicine, $1 50; coal, $2; lodge and church, $1 50; household goods, $2; total, $17 50. There is left a balance of $18 50 for food for six during the month!—Rev. John McDowell in the Pilgrim for July.

PRESIDENT CASTRO TAKES THE FIELD

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILLEMSTAD, CURCACAO, July 6.—News has reached here from an official source in Caracas that President Castro will leave the capital of Venezuela tomorrow for Valencia, to take command of the 4,500 government troops concentrated there who are to oppose the main army of the revolutionists which, under the commands of Luciano Mendoza and Gen. Solagna, is marching toward Valencia from Barquisimeto. The revolutionists are estimated to number more than 3,000 men. Barquisimeto was captured by them last week.

Preparatory to his departing from the capital, President Castro has published a proclamation to the nation, in which he says he recognizes the fact that anarchy exists in Venezuela, and promises to re-establish peace shortly. During the absence of the president from Caracas, Gen. Vicente Gomez, first vice-president, will act in his stead.

Spectacle of J. P. Morgan Lunching With Kaiser Cuts to the Heart.

SEES MISFORTUNE FOR THE AMERICAN

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

VIENNA, July 6.—The Neue Freie Presse has published a satirical editorial article on the fact that J. Pierpont Morgan took luncheon with Empero William on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern at Kiel, July 3. The paper remarks:

"Without his check book, Mr. Morgan never would have been the emperor's guest."

The article harps throughout upon the probabilities of misfortune overtaking "the Napoleon of finance," said says that, gilded by the imagination, his trusts appear to be excellent; but the first moment public confidence is disturbed, the system will undergo a severe trial.

The Neue Freie Presse concludes by saying: "Could a thought-reader have penetrated the secret recesses of the minds of Emperor William and his guest, what startling contrasts might he not have discovered! In Emperor William's mind, perhaps, a yearning for fame and splendor; in that of Mr. Morgan, the hope of new trusts and rising prices. How fortunate it is that social politeness veils such opposites."

Young Girl Wins Race With a Windstorm; New Scalp Is Being Grafted on Young Woman

GIRL OUTRIDES A WIND STORM

Trees Uprooted Around Her, but She Escapes in Perfect Safety.

ADVENTURE IN MOUNTAINS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., July 6.—The 12-year-old daughter of David C. Clise, residing near Hudson, this country, saved her life yesterday afternoon by outriding a cyclone. The girl was helping her father in a mountain field when indications pointed to a storm. Mr. Clise told his daughter to mount one of the horses and hurry home. The road led through a hollow, surrounded on either side by woodland. She had not traveled far before the storm commenced, the wind blowing a terrific gale, hurling large forest trees up by the roots and seemingly confined itself to the hollow through which the girl was compelled to pass.

Hearing the wind roaring in the rear, Miss Clise whipped up her horse, and for nearly a mile the animal outdistanced the wind. The father, who remained behind, could, from the mountain side, see his daughter's wild ride for life. He says he expected to see her crushed to death at any minute.

The path of the wind seemed to be about 50 feet in width. Clise remained on the mountain with perfect safety, the wind and rain being below him.

THIRD VICTIM DIES.

Coroner Porter Will Make a Thorough Investigation of the Edinburg Trolley Collision.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 6.—Joseph Barlint, the third victim of the trolley car collision at Edinburg July 4, died at the hospital here this morning. He was 40 years of age and had no relatives in this country, having come here from Hungary several years ago. The other wreck victims are doing well.

Coroner Porter will hold the inquest over the three victims at the same time, and the investigation will be very thorough. Passengers say the cars have been run at a speed of from 10 to 12 miles past the block signal lights and the car crews would set them by reaching out as they passed and would thus hardly be able to tell what lights were shown in their rapid flight from one block to another.

WITH HONORS OF WAR.

Soldier Who Died in the Philippines Buried at Altoona.

ALTOONA, PA., July 6.—(Special.)—The funeral services of Charles Estreyer, the private of Company H, Eighth United States infantry, who died in the Philippines, was held at his late home here this afternoon. He was buried with the honors of war. The Spanish-American War Veterans, Sons of Veterans, Grand Army and other patriotic orders participated in the interment.

It is estimated that 8,000 were in the funeral procession and it was the largest patriotic demonstration of the kind ever witnessed in this city.

NOW HAS TWO VICTIMS.

Fourth of July Joke Not Appreciated and Two Are Dead.

READING, PA., July 6.—Another was added to the list of victims of Antonio Taddai when John Trayer, aged 32 years, died tonight. Taddai, an Italian, was grinding a street piano on July 4 when one of the bystanders playfully pointed a large firecracker at him.

Taddai at once emptied a revolver into the crowd, killing George Stitzel, aged 24, and wounding Trayer and Edward Hartman. The latter is also expected to die. Taddai is in custody. He says he thought the men intended to rob him.

ARMLESS BUT NOT HELPLESS.

Requires Six Policemen to Arrest Him for Stealing Keg of Beer.

ALTOONA, PA., July 6.—(Special.)—Louis Swayer, an armless man, was arrested last night, charged with stealing a keg of beer at one of the local saloons, which he was rolling away with his feet.

Swayer laid on his back and resisted furiously. Assistance had to be summoned and it required six policemen to land him in the lock-up. Several of the policemen were severely bitten and kicked.

Falls from Gravity Road.

ALTOONA, PA., July 6.—(Special.)—John McManus, a Pennsylvania railroad (Pittsburgh division) fireman, lies in a dying condition at his home in this city as a result of falling from the figure eight gravity road in Lakemont park last night. He fell about 50 feet and sustained internal injuries.

Caused by Leaking Gas.

ALTOONA, PA., July 6.—(Special.)—Fire broke out this afternoon in the wholesale confectionery establishment of the J. Armstrong & Son, entailing a loss of $3,000, covered by insurance. The fire originated at a leaking gas jet.

STEUBENVILLE, O., July 6.—Having received bad news of the death of his sweetheart in Hungary, Mike Dupeowski walked to the cross creek bridge this evening and stripped off his clothes and jumped in the deep water and was drowned.

COLLATERAL HEIRS IN FOR A SCORING

Judge Steel Says They Too Often Forget to Honor Their Benefactor.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., July 6.—President Judge John B. Steel of the orphans' court roundly scored collateral heirs generally in his court Saturday. The collateral heirs in the estate of Hannah A. McClutcheon, late of Washington township, were charged with resisting the allowance set apart in the will for the erection of a suitable monument over the grave of the deceased.

After commenting on the objections filed, Judge Steel said: "Actions of this sort are rare on the part of children, but too frequently met with on the part of collaterals, whose greedy desire to get something on which they had no shadow of a claim prior to the death of the decedent, leads them to grab for the last cent in sight, even though by so doing they should leave their benefactor to rest as a beast in a field in an unmarked grave."

GREENSBURG HAS HOPES.

Committee Working Hard to Secure Location of Thiel College.

GREENSBURG, PA., July 6.—(Special.)—It is expected here that within 10 days an order will be issued for the removal of Thiel college from Greenville to Greensburg. A big delegation of Greensburg citizens will attend the meeting of the trustees of the institution at New Castle July 15 and the committee expect to produce a large end of the $100,000 demanded. Within the past week nearly $50,000 was raised. The Rev. Dr. J. C. Unzman of Pittsburgh is one of the most active workers for Greensburg.

A committee has been appointed here composed of the following well-known citizens: Col. L. B. Huff, Richard Coulter, Jr., Judge John B. Steel, Dr. L. Offutt, A. M. Sloan, P. H. Gaither, E. J. Perry, H. J. Smeltzer, E. H. Bair, Leonard Keck, S. O. Lowry, W. A. Griffith, N. A. Cort, Greensburg; John P. Baughman, Jeannette; J. O. Howell, Irwin; W. S. Loucks, Scottdale; J. T. Ambrose, Ligonier; Mr. Griffith, Latrobe; L. Newmyer, Derry, and Daniel Shuster, Delmont.

DEBT ALL PAID OFF.

Carnegie Organ in the M. E. Church at Irwin Dedicated.

IRWIN, PA., July 6.—(Special.)—The dedication of the Carnegie organ in the Methodist Episcopal church today caused an outpouring of people. There were two services, morning and evening. The music under Choir Master McWilliams was exceptionally fine. Prof. John Pritchard of Pittsburgh was organist, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hamilton of Pittsburgh, Miss Edith Caler of New Brighton and Miss Mabel Phillips of Braddock were soloists.

Incident to the installation of the organ a debt of $1,800 was incurred to make changes in the interior of the church and this was raised as a thank offering by the congregation at the services, so that Mr. Carnegie's stipulation would be fully met.

CRIME CHARGED TO ALLEN.

Confession of Murderer at Uniontown May Save State Henry.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., July 6.—(Special.)—The state pardon board will meet tomorrow at Moundsville, and will consider the case of State Henry, a negro convicted of murder on circumstantial evidence. Will Allen, who was hanged at Uniontown, Pa., last October, said to the death watch before he was hanged that he had killed a man for whose murder there was a man under death sentence in the West Virginia penitentiary.

Allen was with Henry the night of the murder, and fresh evidence will be shown that it was he and not Henry who committed the murder.

ENTIRE SCALP BEING REMOVED

Latrobe Physicians Make Desperate Battle to Save Young Woman Patient.

HAIR CAUGHT IN SHAFTING

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LATROBE, PA., July 6.—A case that is attracting unusual interest throughout the medical fraternity is that of Miss Elizabeth Bennett, daughter of Archibald Bennett, a pioneer business man of Latrobe. Miss Bennett was the victim of an accident that occurred at the Latrobe steam laundry April 28. She was standing beside an open window directly under the shafting when a gust of wind blew her hair against the rapidly revolving shaft, and her scalp was stripped from her head. Her right ear and both eyebrows were torn off.

Drs. Blair, Blackburn and Moren were telephoned for and decided to replace the scalp on her head, and 85 stitches were required to hold the ear and scalp firmly in place.

At the expiration of 24 days it was found the the girl's ear had grown fast to her head and her hearing was unimpaired, but the center of the scalp was not healing and it was necessary to remove it. Accordingly a piece of the scalp 12 inches in circumference was cut away and skin grafting was resorted to. Eleven pieces of skin were taken from the nurse's arm and grafted on Miss Bennett's head. After two days had elapsed, 12 more pieces were grafted and the results seeming satisfactory, grafts were applied on alternate days for a period of two weeks, when it was discovered that the scalp was not growing to the head as had been supposed, but was in a state of suppuration.

At a consultation of the attending physicians it was decided to remove the scalp. This operation was performed and skin grafting resumed, 12 to 18 pieces being grafted on daily. The doctors are satisfied that these grafts are growing and the girl's prospects of recovery are favorable.

Made Happy at Steubenville.

Good Reasons Against Strike.

As the time for the miners' national convention to consider the proposition for a general strike draws near there is naturally considerable thought and discussion given the subject by the mine workers. The fact has been repeatedly noted that miners in the Pittsburgh district do not look favorably upon the strike idea. They have good reasons for their attitude.

First, the districts that have petitioned for the strike have never secured a share in the interstate agreement. They want Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, all operating under the interstate agreement, to violate its terms without a shadow of grievance on their part, but merely to help the districts already on strike.

Second, the miners of the Pittsburgh and Ohio districts are more prosperous now than they have been for many years. Within a decade they have experienced five of the leanest years in the history of coal mining in this country. Then they secured the interstate agreement. For four years past they have made good wages and had steady employment. During their period of distress they had no help from West Virginia, Michigan or the anthracite region. On the contrary, they could not get the West Virginia miners to demand a fair rate.

With these considerations in view the Pittsburgh and Ohio miners cannot be expected to vote for a strike, not to mention the evil consequences to all labor that would follow such a step. Neither can they reasonably be expected to obey a strike order even if other districts carry the convention at Indianapolis on the 17th.

A Difficult Bargain.

Governor Taft is having considerable difficulty in completing an agreement at Rome for the purchase of the property of the friars in the Philippines and the withdrawal of the order. Pope Leo received the American commissioner cordially at first and readily assented to the opening of negotiations. But the matter grows more difficult as it progresses. The pope appears anxious to favor the American government, but reluctant to deal out the friars. It is more than probable the latter have filed protests since the negotiations began. Governor Taft, however, is not the man to shrink from a task because it becomes hard. On the contrary, that will spur him to greater effort, and if he fails to accomplish his mission at Rome it is only reasonable to expect that he will carry his desire back to Manila and resume the effort there. The friars and the consistory might as well assent now as later.

The Season of Mad Dog Scares.

With the heated season come the mad dog scares. There has been at least one in this vicinity, and the dog, terrified by Independence Day noises and impelled by its terrors to snap and bite, did so and was speedily killed. The victims of its rage are now possibly in a condition of nervous dread, if they have not been lulled into a feeling of security by treatment for their wounds or a somewhat prevalent belief that the death of the dog ends the peril. However, for their benefit and the benefit of others it may be said that fear of rabies causes more deaths than rabies. Not all dogs that show fury and bite are mad dogs, and not all the people who die after being bitten are victims of hydrophobia. A majority of them are victims of their own imaginations. There is on record in Chicago the case of a woman who recently died apparently from rabies and whose malady is said to have been pronounced rabies by two physicians. After her death the dog that bit her was looked up and was "found to be entirely well." Doubtless had she been advised of this in time she would have recovered from her fears and lived to be as well as the dog that caused the trouble.

It is no new idea to point out that the better course is not to kill a dog suspected of being rabid, but to shut it up until it shall be determined whether the suspicion is well founded. Such a course would insure persons who have been bitten from death from fright.

President Roosevelt's Idea.

Following so closely the candid discussion of trade and industrial problems contained in his Fourth of July speech in this city, the statement that the president contemplates asking congress to enact special legislation in restraint of trusts is creating considerable interest. What the president said in his Pittsburgh speech may be taken as the keynote of any effort on his part to bring the question before congress at its next session. The president's attitude on the subject is a thoroughly conservative one. He will not engage in any reckless or violent attempt to upset business conditions through a so-called "war on the trusts." No one appreciates more fully the difficulties of regulating operations of trade and commerce than President Roosevelt. He does not pose as a "trust buster" in any sense of the word. Yet he is keenly alive to the necessity of wise and judicious laws in restraint of oppressive and hurtful tendencies of combinations of capital.

Obviously President Roosevelt's speech here on the Fourth of July was the beginning of a campaign of education, having as its ultimate object the adoption and enforcement of laws providing for complete publicity concerning the transactions of the great corporations, possibly accompanied by more severe repression of acts in restraint of trade than under the terms of the Sherman law. The wrongful tendencies of the so-called trusts are to obtain special favors in transportation; to unduly depress the price of raw materials or to unduly advance the price of finished products, and to make ruinous rates in certain districts to kill competition. The first requisite to stopping these abuses is absolute publicity. Even under existing laws the acts specified are illegal, and if exposed in required statements they cannot continue.

In the action against the meat combine the public may see the policy of President Roosevelt illustrated. That was no attack upon legitimate enterprise. The Pittsburgh speech promises there shall be no assault against progress. But there will be an attempt to construct levees to keep the current of modern development within the channels of safety.

Only the Site Needed.

It is now up to the city of Pittsburgh to provide a site for the technological school. Mr. Carnegie has made his offer; the committee on plan and scope has made its report; Mr. Carnegie stands ready and impatient to supply the funds; only the city is holding back. Little has been done toward getting the site, except to procure an option upon an entirely satisfactory piece of ground. Various explanations of the inactivity are offered, but the real reason appears to be that no course of procedure is known in machine circles for transacting business from which no advantages accrue to the politicians. The same sort of delay held back the Carnegie institute extension, and the same dilatoriness attaches to park improvements necessary to give the people the full enjoyment of their pleasure grounds.

A Wise Benefaction

One of the noblest as well as one of the largest benefactions of recent years was the gift of $4,000,000 by John M. Burke of New York city last week, the sum to be used for the building and endowment of a home for convalescents. This splendid gift is made while the giver is still in good health, though he has reached the advanced age of 90 years, and both as to the manner of its giving and the terms of its use stands as one of the unique evidences of modern charity on the part of wealthy men. There had been no previous announcement of Mr. Burke's purpose, but for many months he has been in consultation with competent advisers as to the plans for the home that is to be built. Every detail was gone over carefully and all the plans perfected. When these were complete the announcement was made of the gift and steps taken to make its benefits immediately available.

We doubt whether there has ever been so large a sum of money set apart for the relief of suffering and in aid of a class of people who stand especially in need of assistance. The scope of the institution will be large enough to reach the worthy and yet so carefully managed as to avoid being imposed upon. The entire ceremony of giving and the announcement of the great plans have been singularly free from ostentatious parade and characteristic of the noblest sentiments of charity.

China's Endless Troubles.

China, through Minister Wu, has made a vigorous appeal to this government to have the terms of the Peking treaty fully carried out by the foreign powers represented in its stipulations. Nearly everybody thought that, having agreed to withdraw from China, the foreign allies would keep faith and vacate the Chinese territory, but such is not the case, as this recent appeal of the Chinese government indicates. According to the request the military evacuation of Tientsin, by several of the allied powers has been delayed from time to time under one pretext or another until their presence has become intolerable to the native government. Not only is the military occupation kept up in defiance of the terms of the treaty of Peking, but the intruding soldiers are making themselves daily more offensive by interfering with the local administration of affairs and assuming authority that in no way belongs to them.

Poor old China! It was a sorry day for her when the Boxer uprising gave occasion for the gathering of the vultures upon her rich carcass. It is stated that Secretary Hay is disposed to heed the request of the Chinese minister and intercede, through Minister Conger, to have the foreign troops withdrawn from Tientsin. The United States government is in a position to aid the distressed Celestials to the extent that we followed both the letter and the spirit of the Peking treaty and got out of China when we said we would. Russia followed the good example later, despite an alleged agreement to retain troops in the Tientsin district, and is accused of obtaining an unfair diplomatic advantage thereby. But in any case the other powers of Europe are not securing any fair advantage in remaining in violation of the spirit of the treaty entered into.

The Water Supply.

Viewing the filtration program of the municipal government from the viewpoint of correct municipal financiering and a proper observance of the law as interpreted by Judge Buffington, the sub-committee on finance gives the ordinances submitted to it what is probably their death blow. The estimates of the cost of the work are greatly in excess of the sum available for filtration, and the sub-committee refuses to approve ordinances for the letting of contracts until the cash in hand or in sight bears a harmonious relation to the estimates of cost. Of course, the matter cannot rest with this. The report of the sub-committee does not end the need for action, but, if finally approved, creates the necessity for a new start. A situation is brought about that calls for a friendly conference of municipal officers and councilmen to the end that a program may be agreed upon that will expedite the work of bringing into the homes of the people of Pittsburgh a supply of pure water. The condition of the city water at this time is an eloquent exhibit of the necessities of the case and should stimulate all in authority to do their utmost for the accomplishment of the end for which the people voted to bond themselves.

In addition to the question of a supply of pure water there also remains the matter of an abundant supply of water to fight fires. The downtown region of skyscrapers is still subject to the "pink slip" handicap because of the inadequacy of the piping facilities. The water question is perhaps the most vital one before the public and the representatives of the people should address themselves to the framing of a practical answer to the popular demand.

Reluctant to Be Free.

Aguinaldo does not know what to do with his freedom. He pretends to be afraid of his late fellow patriots. His first request was for protection, that probably being an indirect method of asking for further maintenance. In fact, Aguinaldo appears never to have learned any useful occupation, and the American control has left him no opportunity to get a job as patriot extraordinary for revenue. He had probably hoped the United States would keep him a prisoner for life, and he is sadly disappointed that the United States does not propose to keep him in any capacity.

Possibly he might obtain employment as a lecturer for the Anti-Imperialist league, or even as a horrible example, if he came to this country; but, of course, he does not know that yet. Possibly he has not the passage money. If so, the late George Washington of the Philippines has a hard row of stumps to pull. He will be obliged to hunt a job, or commit some petty depredation that will land him in jail under the civil authority that has been established.

An Apropos Drink.

From the New York Times.

The average street fakir is quick to grasp any new fad which he can convert to his benefit. The latest adaptation of the idea appears in a big display card adorning a push cart dispensary of soft drinks which hovers around the Battery these humid days. It reads:

TRY A PING-PONG MILKSHAKE.

From the Denver Evening Post.

The claim that there is as much real nourishment in one bushel of beans as in five bushels of potatoes may arouse a heated controversy between Ireland and Boston.

BATHING SEASON FULLY ARRIVED

Began in Earnest on the Fourth—Thousands Keep Sabbath in the Surf.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 6.

Let it be recorded that the bathing season in this part of the country has fairly begun. That was shown on the Fourth of July, when about one-fourth of the entire population of New York that was old enough, disported itself in the surf at the various resorts within a two or three hours' journey. Before the Fourth it was declared to be too cold for an ocean dip. Although some intrepid ones have been taking daily sea baths for a month or more, it was not until Independence Day broke clear and sunny, with steadily increasing warmth, that everyone hustled down to the seashore and plunged in. Saturday was a holiday, too. It was warmer than the day before, and the excursion boats to Coney Island, Rockaway, Long Branch and other popular beaches, were jammed to the gunwales, as they had been on the Fourth. While it is hardly possible actually to crowd the long stretches of sand of the Greater New York seashore resorts, there were enough people in the water at one time at almost any hour on Friday, yesterday and today, to make it an ingenious performance to go in without falling over somebody. Today has been as big a holiday as on either Friday or Saturday. Whatever the Sabbath Observance society may say, the ordinary folk of New York who live in tenements, or even in the more aristocratic Harlem and Brooklyn flats, insist on making Sunday a day of recreation in the hot weather. There is only one thing to be done in this way, and that is to get down to the sea. Now that the new park at Coney island has been opened and dedicated by the municipality to the use of the people, Sunday at Coney is a more popular observance than ever. After rollicking about in the surf the visitor can move decorously into the park, and, while walking along the trim paths gazing at the ambitious grass—which will be thicker and greener when it gets older—feel that they might be spending their Sunday in worse fashion, after all. But the main point, after all, is that sea-bathing as an institution is fairly launched around New York for the season of 1902.

Tammany Receives Its Prodigal Son.

Tammanyites are still talking delightedly about the return of Bourke Cockran to the fold. His "long speech" in the Wigwam on the Fourth was full of political significance, as well as clear, dyed-in-the-wool, spread-eagle patriotism. The Hon. Bourke knows how to tickle the Tammany tiger. For a long time previously he had not troubled himself about the feelings of that distinguished animal. He had been outside of the charmed circle of which Richard Croker was the center-pin, and he liked it that way. But now he is back, and having been welcomed by the "boys," he determined to make them feel good by hurling at them one of those old-time, silvery orations for which he is universally famous. In connection with the Tammany celebration, I heard yesterday that Grover Cleveland had not been asked to deliver the "long talk" on the Fourth, and therefore did not write a letter of regret. It was a Tammany man that told me this, and his reputation for veracity is so high that I am bound to believe him. The popular impression is that Cleveland was asked and refused.

Devery's Ideas on Love-Making.

"Big Chief" Devery has been heard from again. This time he is quoted as an authority on the etiquette of love and courtship, and he expresses himself on that subject with the same positiveness that used to make policemen on trial at headquarters tremble for their necks. The Rockaway police have determined that couples must not "spoon" under the boardwalk in the evening. Devery lives at Rockaway, and he was asked what he thought of the rule. He said, in effect, that he would like to see the policeman that would interfere with his lovemaking if his courting days were to return. But, then, the chief is a law unto himself. Other tender swains will have to do their wooing in the open or go to jail, according to Rockaway's police captain, and New Yorkers never question the despotic power of that functionary.

The Teachers' First Sunday at Sea.

The Gazette's party of excursionists for Europe are spending their first Sunday on the Atlantic. When the big steamer Minnehaha backed smoothly out of her slip at pier 39, North river, yesterday morning very few of the excursionists were on deck. One or two were there, however. They could be seen from the pier and it was surmised that they were up so that they might see the last of their native land before casting off. Of course, they could look at it for at least two hours afterward, as the ship went down the Narrows and plowed away to the open sea; but the point was to watch the casting-off of the cables that connected the vessel with the shore. That was the last farewell, after all. It is broad daylight at 5 o'clock in the morning, the hour set for the Minnehaha to move from her dock, and the scene must well have repaid the few that were on deck. The ship went swiftly down the stream as soon as she straightened out in the middle of the river, and in less than half an hour all that could be seen of her from the end of the long pier was a thin line of smoke from her stack and the fluttering of the British flag over the taffrail.

Duss' New Soprano.

John S. Duss introduced his new soprano tonight at his concert in St. Nicholas garden. She is Miss Helen Noldi and she has made a hit. Mr. Duss gave his usual dashing concert with his big band and the immense garden was as nearly crowded as such a capacious auditorium, in which actual crowding is guarded against by the management, could be.

Midsummer Theatricals.

There will be a change of bill at the Manhattan Beach theater tomorrow evening. Frank Daniels, in "Miss Simplicity," retired after last night's performance, and Ed. Rice's "The Show Girl" will hold the boards for a few weeks. The other important amusement happening in Greater New York tomorrow will be the opening of Madison Square garden roof with the new entertainment, "Japan by Night."

Santos-Dumont's Airship Arrives.

M. Santos-Dumont's new airship, known as "Santos-Dumont No. 6," is at Brighton Beach. It was released yesterday from the possession of the Wells-Fargo Company, loaded on three trucks and carted down to the seaside. The machine is in 21 packing cases. The airship is to be exhibited at Brighton Beach in a special building 175 feet long, 125 feet wide and 60 feet high. It is promised that the inventor will soon come over from Paris to sail his airship around the statue of Liberty and perform other stunts of a spectacular character.

A Splendid New Temple of Worship.

A splendid new Roman Catholic edifice is to be built in New York. Miss Annie Leary, the only American woman to be made a countess of the Holy See, and Mrs. Henry B. Plant, widow of the wealthy railroad and steamboat owner, have given to the fathers of the Blessed Sacrament, who are in this city, a church of their own, the first in the United States, and the only one which will be permitted by the rules of the order. The church will be a memorial, jointly, to Arthur Leary and Henry B. Plant, and it is to be of unusual splendor. It will be modeled on one of the most impressive edifices belonging to the order on the continent of Europe.

Holiday Makers Crowding Back.

New York has not looked like itself for the last three days. There has been no business of any account done in the city since Thursday. The big wholesale and retail establishments and the many factories in different parts of Manhattan and Brooklyn have been closed, and the army of men and women generally so busy in them have disappeared entirely. They went out of town on Thursday night and Friday morning by the hundred thousand and have been away ever since. The streets down town in Manhattan borough have been actually deserted, and they were not any emptier today than on Friday and Saturday. There was a particularly large crowd on the trolleys, trains and boats tonight, all turned toward the city. Many of the excursionists had been away for the three days and were eager to get back tonight so that they may be ready for work bright and early tomorrow. This element, joined to the regular one-day Sunday holiday crowd, made the rush tremendous. At midnight it was still almost as great as ever, and the probabilities are that daylight will still find a stream of people pouring into the city from outlying points. It has been one of the greatest holidays New York ever had.

Lena Schmidt Disappears.

No one is surprised that Lena Schmidt, principal witness against the wardman, Bissert, who, after serving some months in Sing Sing, obtained a new trial, and is now out on bail, has disappeared. It was understood that when once Bissert got out that would be the end of the case in spite of the assertions of the district attorney that he would push it. "Pull" is a great thing in this city, even with Tammany out of office, and now that Lena Schmidt has taken herself off, it will be strange if Bissert is ever called on to answer again the ugly charge of bribery which laid him by the heels last fall.

Rebuilding a Famous Church Edifice.

Consecration services of the new portion of Grace Episcopal church at Broadway and Tenth street have been announced for November. The church is one of the most famous in the country. Standing back in its own beautiful garden, in one of the busiest parts of Broadway, it is an oasis in a desert of steel-framed skyscrapers and brick-and-mortar ugliness. The church has been in the hands of workmen for many months. The improvements consist of two new buildings facing Fourth avenue and the deepening of the chancel of the church proper. It was at first intended to move the chancel wall to the rear intact by means of rollers, but this was abandoned, and the wall is being taken down, each piece marked, and being relaid in its same relative position. Strangers entering the church number many thousands a month.

Presbyterian Editor's New Field.

The Post yesterday thus spoke of the new assistant pastor at the historical Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church in this city, in which the general assembly held its sessions lately: "The Rev. John A. Marquis, editor of the Presbyterian Banner and pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Greensburg, Pa., will be the new assistant pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, to succeed the Rev. Ernest A. Hall. The new assistant is a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college, and has long been a personal friend of the Fifth Avenue pastor, the Rev. Dr. Stevenson.

Roosevelt Enjoyed His Fourth.

President Roosevelt was in New York yesterday afternoon, but did not stay long. He was on his way to Oyster Bay, and he wished to get there without unnecessary delay. He told friends that he had enjoyed his Fourth in Pittsburgh, and would not have missed it for a great deal. Still, he was glad to get home, and there was a great welcome for him last night at Oyster Bay, although mainly informal, because no one knew at what time he would arrive.

Sent Candy to a Wit.

Here is one that is not my own, but is not destitute of point, notwithstanding: Not long ago a New Yorker well known for his convivial habits sent a box of candy to a girl uptown, and wrote on his card the backneyed sentiment, "Sweets to the sweet." The next day he received a brief acknowledgment, which read: "Tanks to the tank."

Contractors Run Foul of Justice.

Contractors working on the rapid transit subway in the neighborhood of the criminal court building, just across a narrow street from the Tombs, are having trouble with the judges. The court has ordered on several occasions that the noise of the workmen shall cease because the racket drowns the legal proceedings. One contractor sent back word that it was impossible to sink a foundation of piles without making a noise, and the judge threatened to punish him for contempt of court. Lawyers seem to think, however, that a contempt of court must be committed in the actual presence of the court. The contractor did not argue this delicate legal point, but stopped his work until court adjourned. The whole of Elm street, which borders the west side of the big court building, is in process of being torn up for the tunnel excavation, and added to the noise of the digging and carting and machinery on the side, is the crashing of the pile-driver on the Franklin street side, where 60-foot piles are being driven in to support the wall of the new Tombs.

Yankees Winning All Around.

RODE MAD HORSE INTO THE OCEAN

A Baltimore Belle Has an Exciting Bathing Experience Not on the Bills.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 6.—A horse went mad on the beach this afternoon and nearly caused the death of a young woman. J. H. Henry Taylor and Miss Mildred Fralich, both of Baltimore, were riding along the beach from Chelsea to Ventor, when the horse ridden by Miss Fralich suddenly became unmanageable and rushed into the surf. Miss Fralich clung to the horse, fearing that if she attempted to get away the brute would kill her, as it was kicking viciously. Mr. Taylor was unable to go to Miss Fralich's relief, as his horse refused to enter the surf.

The maddened animal proceeded farther into the water, and spectators believed the young woman would be drowned. Finally the life guards at Chelsea noticed the predicament of Miss Fralich, and by hard rowing managed to reach her in time to save her. They caught the horse by the bridle, at the risk of capsizing their craft, and after an exciting struggle they succeeded in getting Miss Fralich into the boat and brought her ashore.

The life guards then started out to rescue the horse, which was madly swimming about and, after another struggle, they fastened the bridle to the stern of their boat and dragged the horse to the beach. It had become so weakened by its violent exertions that it was then easily managed and was turned over to a veterinarian.

When Miss Fralich was seen after her perilous adventure, she appeared none the worse for it, and talked about it as coolly as if it had been an everyday affair. Her chief regret was that her riding costume had been ruined.

The Jewish Chautauqua.

The sixth annual assembly of the Jewish Chautauqua Society was opened this morning at the Beth-Israel synagogue. Jacob Gimbel of Philadelphia presided, and made the opening address, in which he pointed out the importance of giving material support to the organization.

The principal address was made by the Rev. Dr. Henry Berkowitz of Philadelphia. He explained the objects of the association and the ideas it represents. Educational movements are coming into closer touch with the people, he said, and one of these movements is the Jewish Chautauqua society, its purpose being to popularize Jewish knowledge.

Addresses also were made by Dr. Lee K. Frankel of New York, Adolph Moses of Chicago, Rabbi Leon Harrison of St. Louis, M. Isenberg of Wheeling and Isaac Hassler of Philadelphia. Tonight a social reunion was held and Prof. Leon H. Vincent lectured on "Carlyle and His Wife."

PROVERBS NOT ALL PROVERBS.

Dr. Hulley Points Out That Most of the Book Is a Poem on Wisdom.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 6.—(Special.)—This, the first Sunday of the assembly, has been a revelation as to the number of people here. Sunday morning audiences are always the largest of the week, strangely enough.

Dr. Lincoln Hulley of Bucknell university in his study of the book of Proverbs this morning made the rather startling statement that the larger part of the book is not proverbs at all, but a poem on wisdom; and that the book consists of several collections made at widely different periods, and given Solomon's name because he wrote or collected more of the book than anyone else, something on the principle of the vote for the most popular teacher in the city. He even asserted that the book was not religious at all, but ethical and prudential, and referred to matters of every-day life.

The sermon was delivered by Dr. Graham Taylor of Chicago. He took for his text the answer of Jesus to the request of the two disciples for the two places of honor in his kingdom, "Are Ye Able?"

"The prayer for power answered was the inquiry for capacity. The problem of power is the problem of life itself, and of the great world's life. It lies under the very lowermost motive; it measures the real heart of our aspirations; it pierces to the dividing asunder of appearance from reality, or conditions and reputation from character, of what we seem to be from what we are. Talismanic is the touchstone here held out, whereby each one of us, either in the light of the present or the past, stands naked before himself and Him with whom we all have to do.

"Are we, as a nation, able to receive the new increase of power that has come to us recently? Thank God, we were able in Cuba; may we be in the Philippines. It was the climax of our self-mastery to pull down the flag in Cuba, and in the eyes of the nations of the world, it initiated national self-abnegation, almost for the first time."

COMMENTS ON THE CELEBRATION.

Having entertained the president, Pittsburgh is ready to smoke up again.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

President Roosevelt's Fourth of July speech at Pittsburgh bore out the rumors that he would maintain a bold and unyielding tone in the matter of Cuban reciprocity.—New York Evening Post.

The celebration of the glorious Fourth was general and enthusiastic yesterday. The event of the day was at Pittsburgh, where President Roosevelt was the guest of honor and delivered a spirited and splendid patriotic address.—Scranton Truth.

The applause which was given to the president's declarations by the thousands at Pittsburgh is repeated by millions all over the land. He said that reciprocity with Cuba would come "just as sure as fate." If in this country fate be the will of the people, it will indeed be so.—New York Tribune.

In her old-fashioned celebration of the Fourth of July yesterday, Pittsburgh did both herself and the commonwealth of Pennsylvania credit. Generally and in detail the exercises were excellently planned and admirably carried out, and the reception to the nation's chief magistrate was, as fittingly it should be, a great ovation to a great American.—Johnstown Daily Tribune.

June Was Ungrateful.

The dreamy poet tuned his lyre with fervor in his eyes
To sing a farewell song to June and laud her to the skies,
To sing about her breezes soft, her flowers and her birds;
And praise her sweet demeanor in his choicest flow of words.
The fires of inspiration thrilled his wealth of gifted brain,
As keyed he up the instrument to its highest strain.
But ere he from his tuneful lyre could get the proper ring

He Added One.

"I have become very much interested," remarked Mrs. Hammersmith, "in the theory that character is revealed by the eyes."

"Great idea!" assented Mr. Hammersmith. "The theory is that persons with cross eyes have dispositions to match, I suppose. Is that it?"

"Now don't be ridiculous, as usual," Mrs. Hammersmith retorted. "Of course, that isn't the idea. Men who have studied the matter say that blue eyes are the most lovable."

"You have blue eyes," Mr. Hammersmith cut in.

She smiled.

"And that gray eyes indicate a keen insight into things."

"My eyes are gray," Mr. Hammersmith interpolated complacently.

"Hazel eyes indicate quickness of sympathy. Very dark eyes manifest the brightest disposition. Brown eyes are the most romantic."

"What do glass eyes indicate?" Mr. Hammersmith interrupted.

She continued, without deigning to answer:

"Eyes that are restless possess no power. It requires a concentrated gaze to influence another and to reach his secrets. If the left eye is the larger, the individual is ruled by the heart; if the right eye is larger, it signifies good common sense."

"If the eyes are mates, what does it signify?"

She refused to answer.

"Well, you've missed one indication of character in eyes," Mr. Hammersmith went on.

"What?"

"If a man has the habit of wearing hand-painted black eyes it indicates a quarrelsome disposition."

Good for the Corn.

A SUPPLICATION.

Let me but hold thy hand,
And, through the valleys, dark with toil and care
And disappointment I would pass with stride
That faltered not, and I would count as naught
The doubts and fears that now assail me, fraught
With whispers of False Hope—twin brother of Despair.
I'd scale Ambition's peaks unterrified
Could I but hold thy hand.

Could I but hold thy hand
Just once, I'd lean back in my little chair
And bet the limit sure, whate'er betide.
Unnumbered stacks of "reds and blues" I've bought
And lost. You've won all night; I haven't caught
A thing to help along a sickly "pair."
Give me that "Ante," and joy with thee abide:
Oh, let me hold that hand!

THE DEATH ROLL.

Hugh McGuire.

NEW BRIGHTON, PA., July 6.—(Special.)—Hugh McGuire, aged 70, a Democrat of more than local repute, and one of the foremost men in Beaver county, died at his home at Oak Hill, Daugherty township, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. While attending court as a witness at Beaver four months ago he was stricken with paralysis and never recovered his usual health. He was a grandson of James McGuire, one of the first settlers of Beaver county, who settled at the old McGuire homestead where Hugh McGuire died yesterday, in 1798. For 22 years Hugh McGuire resided on Church avenue, Allegheny, and for a number of years was superintendent of the old Troy Hill Street Railway Company. Later he was in the undertaking business for 10 years. He served several terms in both common and select council in Allegheny and was prominent in Democratic politics in that city for over 20 years. In 1888 he came back to his birthplace, where he was serving as justice of the peace when his death occurred. He married Miss Anna E. Reel of Allegheny during the time he lived in that city. Mr. McGuire was a consistent member of the Roman Catholic church, being a member of St. Joseph's congregation at New Brighton. He is survived by his widow and four children: James C. McGuire of Denison, O.; Dr. H. Edward McGuire of Penn avenue, Pittsburgh; Miss Anne E. and Jacob G. McGuire, at home. The funeral services will occur with mass in St. Joseph's church here at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Interment follows in Daugherty cemetery.

Henry Heuring.

Henry Heuring, the well-known Allegheny grocer, died yesterday morning at his home in St. Clair Terrace, Allegheny. He was 68 years old. Mr. Heuring came from Alsace-Lorraine, then belonging to France, when he was 14 years old, with Eastern Syndicate, Headed by D. W. and H. A. Kuhn of Pittsburgh, Bought It.

THE PENN MANOR SHAFT COMPANY HAS BEEN SOLD

COST WILL REACH $800,000

The Holdings of the Company Are in the Irwin Field and Product is of the Highest Grade—Output to Be Increased.

Whitney & Stephenson, principal owners in the Penn Manor Shaft Company, and J. H. Friend have transferred all the stock of the company to an eastern syndicate headed by D. W. and H. A. Kuhn of Pittsburgh. The new owners will continue and extend the development of this fine gas coal property, which is in the Irwin field. The Penn Manor Shaft Company had a stock issue of $360,000 and bonds in the sum of $350,000. The purchase price, it is understood, will ultimately cover the par value of all these securities and by the time the bonds are redeemed the cost of the property to the new owners will be something like $800,000.

The property lies on the line of the Pennsylvania railroad, 30.4 miles east of Pittsburgh. It is a tract of 1,000 acres, mostly undeveloped, and immediately adjoins the valuable coal property of the Penn Gas Coal and the Westmoreland Coal & Coke companies. Development now is extensive and the plant is comparatively modern. It is understood that improvements will be made and production brought up to about 1,000 tons a day. The coal produced has in the main been going to the eastern markets, and it and that of some of the adjoining properties have found markets abroad.

D. W. Kuhn is interested in other coal properties in the Pittsburgh district. H. A. Kuhn has been associated with the United Coal Company, which recently took over the Ella Coal Company and other valuable possessions, combining them with a capitalization of $3,000,000.

The Penn Manor, it is understood, will continue operations with the same capital issue. The only change will be the substitution of a new set of directors and officers. Possession of the property was delivered to the new owners on July 1.

Under the old organization of the company F. L. Stephenson was president and treasurer, and J. H. Friend secretary and general manager. These officers, with George I. Whitney, senior member of the well-known brokerage house of Whitney & Stephenson, formed the board of directors.

PERSONALS.

"Rain is badly needed in many parts of Texas," said R. Grisbrown of Laredo, Tex., while passing through the city to New York last night. The cotton and corn crops are in very fair condition, but they also will require rain very soon if they are to amount to anything. Yes, the assault made by Senator Bailey on Senator Beveridge in the senate chamber caused much surprise in Texas. Bailey was not known to have such an ungovernable temper and was always considered a fairly mild-mannered man. TWO DEATHS FROM OIL EXPLOSIONS

BOTH VICTIMS CHILDREN WHO POURED KEROSENE ON FIRES.

Striking Similarity in Accidents That Proved Fatal to Mary Malber of East Pittsburgh and Gotleib Klein of Allegheny.

While pouring kerosene on a smouldering fire in the kitchen on Saturday morning little Mary Malber, 7 years old, was so severely burned by the explosion of the oil that she died yesterday in the home of her father, John Malber, at Falls hollow, East Pittsburgh. The oil became ignited and in a second her clothes were in a mass of flames. She lingered until 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The child's parents were away from home when the accident occurred. Mrs. Malber left the child with her older sister Catherine. She also told the latter to look after the fire. Catherine threw some coal in the fire and jokingly told her little sister to watch it. Mary looked at the fire a few minutes and, thinking that the fire was about to go out, she went for the kerosene can.

She poured the oil on the smouldering coals. In an instant there was an explosion and the child's clothing caught fire. She screamed and ran from the house into the yard and fell exhausted in the grass. Her cries aroused Jacob Angel, a neighbor who was resting on the porch. He ran into the yard and pulled the burning garments off the little girl.

Little Boy Also Burned.

She was carried unconscious into the house and medical aid was summoned. She was frightfully burned and the physicians said at the time that recovery was impossible. She lingered until noon yesterday and died without regaining consciousness.

Gottlieb Klem, 13 years old, of No. 844 Logan street, Allegheny, experienced almost the same fate as the unfortunate girl. He was pouring some carbon oil on the stove in the kitchen Saturday afternoon and was so badly burned that he died in the Allegheny General hospital at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The boy was playing in the kitchen while his parents were attending church. They had left the unfortunate lad in the care of his older brother. The fire was burning and the older brother stepped into the back yard, leaving young Klem to himself. The boy took the oil can and poured the contents on the burning coals. An explosion followed and the boy's clothing became ignited.

Aid Came Too Late.

He screamed and ran about the kitchen, trying to tear the burning clothing from his body. His brother ran into the kitchen just in time to see him leap out of the window into the yard. James Heard, a neighbor, was attracted by the boy's screams, ran into the yard and tore the clothing off his body.

When they started to carry the boy into the house they discovered the kitchen was in flames. When the explosion occurred the oil was blown over the room. They took the boy into the next house and while Heard went for a physician the older brother went for a police officer. An alarm was sent in and the fire was extinguished after damaging the property to the extent of $500.

The physicians worked on the boy almost until the hour he died. His parents were sent for and although they hurried from the church he was unconscious before they reached home. He died shortly after 3 o'clock. The inquest will be held on Tuesday.

SOUGHT RELIEF FROM HEAT AT TROLLEY PARKS

Although yesterday afternoon's thunder storm did not reach some of the traction parks, its violence in the downtown portion of the city kept down the early afternoon attendance at Calhoun, Oakwood, Southern and Kennywood. After the skies cleared and the rays of the sun became fierce there was a rush on all the trolley lines. By 4 o'clock all the parks were rapidly filling up with people seeking relief from the heat. After supper the rush scenes of July 4 were repeated, every park car being crowded to the running boards.

There was no lack of entertainment at the traction parks, the programs embracing everything from sacred music by brass bands to performances by acrobatic dogs. Phinney's United States military band of Chicago was the star attraction at Calhoun park, which seemed to have the largest crowds of the day. Two exceptionally good concerts were given, the feature of the evening entertainment being the production of the musical spectacle, "From Battlefield to Fireside." Mr. Phinney's production made such a hit that it will be repeated at Kennywood during the week, the band being engaged to give afternoon and evening concerts there.

The Chicago Newsboys' band returned to Oakwood park for another week's engagement and gave two popular concerts. This will be the fourth and last week of the unique newsies' organization which goes east to play in other parks after leaving Pittsburgh. The programs for the evening concerts this week will be made up of request numbers.

Helen May Butler's ladies' brass band of Providence, R. I., and Lavelle's troupe of acrobatic and comedy dogs were the attractions at Southern park, where the ladies' band began a week's engagement. This is the only ladies' band in the country in which brass instruments exclusively are used. All the other ladies' bands are composed of half brass and half reed. Almost every number on the program was encored.

The break in the two weeks' engagement of the Phinney band at Kennywood was filled by Post's military band of Kent, O., which delighted thousands of people afternoon and evening. The band, which came to Pittsburgh on July 4, was accompanied by several hundred excursionists from Kent who remained over Sunday and with the band went home last night.

FOUND IN THE ATTIC.

Chicago Laborer Kills His Wife and Tries to Wipe Out Whole Family.

CHICAGO, ILL., July 6.—Taking his revenge for a quarrel of long standing, Theodore Oelfeuer, a laborer, shot and killed his wife, Adelaide, today, as she lay asleep in bed.

Oelfeuer then turned the revolver on his baby son, Walter, and his stepdaughter, Lizzie Stramm, who were sleeping with his wife, wounding the former, probably fatally, and putting a bullet in the latter's shoulder. Oelfeuer also fired a shot at his two stepsons, but hit neither.

After committing the deed Oelfeuer hid in an attic of the house until police officers arrested him.

One More Dead at Gloversville.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., July 6.—Motorman William Dodge of the runaway car on the Mountain Lake railroad died at Littauer hospital tonight, making the thirteenth of the wreck of Friday night. Coroner Palmer has commenced an investigation. It has developed that the frame of the truck of the runaway car was broken and may have caused the accident, but the motorman's death will make it hard to determine the exact cause.

Forty-two Buildings Burn.

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 6.—Fire at Clinton, N. C., today destroyed 42 stores and residences, causing a loss of $100,000, on which there was little insurance. Among the buildings burned were the Episcopal church and the Western Union Telegraph office.

NEW YORK STATE SUFFERING FROM BIG RAIN STORM

Bridges Are Washed Away and in Many Sections No Trains Can Run.

ONLY ONE LIFE IS LOST

Many Houses Are Swept Out With the Current of Small Streams Suddenly Become Rivers—Much Live Stock Drowned.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Buffalo, N. Y., July 6.—A terrific rain and windstorm swept over western New York at an early hour today. Rivers and creeks rose rapidly, overflowing their banks and sweeping away houses, barns and live stock. The loss will reach into hundreds of thousands of dollars. Telegraph and telephone wires are down and communication with small towns in Wyoming, Niagara and Cattaraugus counties is difficult. This city was not in the path of the storm.

A dispatch from Arcade says the flood at that place claimed one victim and did many thousand dollars damage to property. Minnie Loper, who kept a bakery on the bank of the creek was drowned early in the day. The downpour and the cloudburst above the village turned the creek into a torrent. The water rose very rapidly and was several feet deep on the lowlands before anyone realized the danger. Miss Loper's bakeshop was swept out into the stream, but it had not gone far before it fell apart. Her body was recovered.

At Yorkshire, two miles below Arcade, the approaches to the bridge were washed away but the bridge is standing. Miles of roadway are so gullied or buried in debris that they will have to be rebuilt.

Much Live Stock Gone.

At Sandusky, a few miles from Arcade, it is reported that two houses were washed away. From everywhere come reports of live stock killed. The loss to individuals will be very high and the loss to the town from the destruction of bridges and roadbeds will also be high.

PORTAGE, N. Y., July 6.—The worst storm ever known in this section is sweeping down the Genesee valley. Rain fell heavily for 24 hours and at an early hour this morning a cloudburst sent the streams over their banks. The river is now a torrent a mile wide. At 8 o'clock this morning everyone living in the lower part of the town had to abandon their homes. The farms are laid waste and no field crops can be saved. Houses and barns were swept down the river. The roadbed of the Pennsylvania railroad is washed out in many places.

HORNELLSVILLE, N. Y., July 6.—A tremendous downpour of rain early today caused one of the worst floods of the year in this vicinity. All of the lower part of the city was soon flooded. Railroad traffic in both directions was completely tied up all day and not a train arrived in the city after 2 a. m. Three houses were undermined and carried away.

Four Feet Under Water.

PIKE, N. Y., July 6.—At daybreak this morning Pike was under four feet of water. Almost every bridge over creeks in Niagara and Allegheny counties and in the southern part of Wyoming county was washed away. It is estimated that the damage in this immediate vicinity will amount to $250,000. Much stock was killed.

BATAVIA, N. Y., July 6.—The heavy rains for the last six days have swollen Tonawanda creek to a degree never before known, even in the worst spring freshets. A torrential downpour fell at midnight, making the situation perilous for persons living near the river. At 3:30 p. m., the flood came over the banks of the creek which are 50 feet high. Hundreds of acres of farm lands are under water and the damage will be great.

ATTICA, N. Y., July 6.—The rains sent Tonawanda creek over its banks and the reservoir of the Attica Water Company, two miles south of here, gave way under the pressure. The east end of the dam at the Attica mills was washed away. Dead cattle, wagons and wreakage of all kinds were washed down stream. Seven iron bridges in this town were carried away.

GRAHAM BELL TAKES ON NEW LINE OF WORK

Will Assist in Education of Deaf, Dumb and Blind—Educational Association Convention.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., July 6.—Many prominent delegates to the National Education asssociation arrived here today. Among them were National Commander of Education W. E. Harris of Washington, President W. H. Harper of Chicago university, President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, and various superintendents of schools from the west and south.

Interest was added to the convention today by the announcement that Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, will take charge of the association for the education of the deaf, dumb, blind and weak-minded.

Commissioner Harris said tonight that the greatest progress in education in the last ten years has been made in the northwest. This was due, he thought, to the fact that by the ordinance of 1892, every sixteenth section of every township should go to the public school. This land as soon as settlements were made, was sold and the money devoted to educational purposes. In 1890, he said there were 2,540 high schools in the country. In 1900 there were 6,005; of these the northwest had half.

An interesting feature of the occasion is the presence of a number of Indian boys and girls from the school at Chamberlain, S. D. They are in charge of Superintendent and Mrs. Flinn. The Indians have a band, a mandolin club, in which seven girls play, and a baseball nine. They are anxious to play any baseball team in the country, and Joel Tyndall, a full-blooded Omaha, manager of the team, says his nine can beat the Minneapolis American association team.

Want Conference Made Annual.

WARSAW, IND., July 6.—The closing exercises of the First National Young People's Bible conference at Winona, were held today. The most impressive service was the hillside meeting, conducted by the Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, the conference director, and the Rev. Arthur J. Smith of New York. A resolution was adopted urging that the conference be made a permanent annual affair.

LOCAL NEWS
OF GREATER PITTSBURGH

Unknown Man Cut Him—Joseph Markoritz of No. 32 Gladstone street, Allegheny, while going home late Saturday night was cut in the left arm by an unknown man. Dr. Doyle put five stitches in the wound and Markoritz went home.

Hot Metal Burned Two—Mike Skay, a Hungarian, and George Nicola, an Italian, were painfully burned at the Edgar Thomson blast furnace in Braddock. The men were working about the furnace when a "splash" of hot metal fell over them. They were taken to the McKeesport hospital.

Crossed Wires Caused a Fire—Crossed electric light wires at the residence of S. Reel, Bigham street, Duquesne Heights, caused a small blaze yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock. An alarm was sent in, but the fire was extinguished, without much damage before the companies arrived.

$5,000 Blaze in Homestead—The building in Homestead formerly occupied by the "Black Cat" liquor saloon, and the house adjoining it, Nos. 321 and 323 Sixth avenue, were destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The loss was about $5,000. One house was owned by A. B. Stevenson and the other by the Homestead Realty Company. Both houses were used as negro restaurants. Smith, one of the negro restaurateurs, says he does not know how the fire occurred, unless some other black man with a grudge against him set fire to the house.

Woman Swore on Street—At the hearing at No. 3 police station yesterday morning, Police Magistrate James Y. McMasters sent Mary Boyle to the workhouse for 30 days for using profane language on the street. Joseph McCritchen was held for court on a charge of pointing firearms. He was arrested in the Pennsylvania railroad yards at Thirty-fifth street and Liberty avenue by Officer Thomas Fee. Eighteen other minor cases were heard and received the usual sentences.

Found in Saloon Cellar—William Smith of Allegheny and Amos L. Kaufman of Pittsburgh were found at 1 o'clock yesterday morning in the cellar of Henry Wessekr's saloon, at River avenue and Chestnut street, Allegheny and locked up in Central station charged with being suspicious persons. They will be given a hearing this morning.

Fought With Beer Bottles—Thomas O'Boyle of Lake street, Allegheny, is locked up in the North Side Central station for hitting an unknown woman early yesterday morning with a beer bottle. He will be given a hearing today. August Marks of Rebecca street and Sadie Cochran of No. 1317 Miller street, Allegheny, had a fight early yesterday morning at the latter's house. Both were pretty badly cut about the head and face and were taken to the Allegheny general hospital in a patrol wagon. Marks was later taken to Central station and locked up for a hearing today. The woman is still at the hospital. She has a scalp wound and two ugly cuts on the face. They fought with beer bottles.

PASTOR TOLD OF THE GREAT MEN OF OUR COUNTRY

Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and McKinley Were Eulogized.

ROOSEVELT NAMED ALSO

This Great Country Is, According to Views of Dr. W. H. Rees, Indebted for Success to the Individual Character of Its Leaders.

The glorious outcome of the Fourth of July celebration and the encampment of the National guard this week in the historic fields of Gettysburg served as inspiration to not a few of the pastors yesterday in their pulpits. In many of the churches there were special services. In the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church there was a special patriotic service at both the morning and evening services.

In the morning the Rev. Dr. W. H. W. Rees preached on "Tall Men and Great Events in Our National Life." This was followed in the evening by a thrilling descriptive sermon on "Gettysburg" by the Rev. Dr. N. L. Brown. "As I was with Moses, so will I be with thee," Joshua 1:5., was Dr. Rees' text to his morning sermon.

"Great nations are a growth," he said, "they are not developed in a day. Centuries are required to enable them to reach their majority. Egypt had shepherd kings for 500 years, and her golden age, when art flourished, spread over three centuries.

America's Great Future.

"We all know that the Hebrew nation from Moses to David lasted 500 years, and then the empire entered upon a half-thousand years of similar success. Rome enjoyed the splendor of a republic for nearly 500 years. What, then, may we not expect of a nation that has been born in 1776, whose people are educated, and who have adopted the ideas of liberty and religion, and industry and peace.

"Persons, individuals make a republic. They civilize and exalt. It was Socrates who trained the Athenians, not his theories. Not what Luther nailed to the Wittenberg cathedral, but his heart of fire redeemed Germany.

Not a written declaration of independence, but the principle of that declaration as seen in Patrick Henry, Jefferson, and Washington, gave freedom to the colonies. Names stand for character—Blaine for reciprocity, Lincoln for emancipation, McKinley for statemanship, Roosevelt for Americanism.

"Tall men?" let me name some.

Our Tall Men.

"There was Washington. He stood 6 feet 2 inches in his boots, athletic, robust. He was a great soldier. He saw into the future, and blazed the path of liberty. He laid foundations on which the republic has been built. His bequest to civilization cannot be measured.

"Then come Abraham Lincoln. If I could dip my pen in the rainbow hues of heaven and dry the written page with dust of diamonds, I could not adequately present the tall character of Lincoln, the child of the common people. He stands like Mr. Ranier, solitary and alone, imposing grand, the mightiest of the mighty, the tallest of the tall. Lifting the black race to freedom, and the nation to loftier ideas, he was a common man expanded into great proportions. U. S. Grant, great in war, magnanimous in peace, calm amid excitement, patient amid trials, never unduly elated by victory, or depressed by defeat. His memory is green in the American heart.

Tribute to Presidents.

"Garfield struggling from the janitorship of Hiram college to congress and the presidency; clean morally, pure in his political life, devoted to his home and his God. What shall I say of McKinley? He had meekness amid much provocation; fidelity, amid much deception; spirituality, environed with worldliness. The great events in our national life must not go untold this morning.

"The independence of the colonies, the emancipation of the blacks, and the freedom of Cuba, are three great events in our history. There were giants in revolutionary days—Patrick Henry, Thomas Jefferson, Daniel Morgan, John Marshall and George Washington. These were men, my friends, and the colonies are the foundation stone of the republic. This is enough for the 126 years of our history!

"Sail on, O ship of State
Sail on, O Union, strong and great!"

New Pastor Installed.

The Rev. Frederick Lyne preached his initial sermon yesterday morning in St. Matthew's Protestant Episcopal church, Homestead. The morning sermon was more of a short talk, in which Rev. Lyne expressed the hope that his relations with his congregation would always be of a pleasant nature. The church had been without a pastor since the death of the Rev. J. E. White, two years ago. Mr. Lyne comes from Steelton. He also preached in the evening.

GREAT CROWD AT SCHENLEY PARK

OPEN-AIR SERVICES ATTRACTED THE LARGEST AUDIENCE.

The Rev. S. Edward Young Discoursed Helpfully and Music Was Unusually Good—President's Stand Was Made Pulpit for the Nonce.

Nearly 1,000 people gathered about the president's stand in Schenley park last night to hear the Rev. Dr. S. Edward Young speak and enjoy the excellent musical features of the park service. It was the largest attendance Dr. Young has ever had.

The Homestead Library band was the musical attraction. One of the most impressive selections it rendered was the celebrated offertoire from Baptiste. Others were the "Inflammatus," from Rossini, and Haydn's "The Heavens Are Telling." The chorus, under the leadership of Benjamin F. Butts, sang "Gathering Home," "A Life in the Light of His Face."

Previous to his sermon Dr. Young announced that there are to be open-air meetings in every park in Greater Pittsburgh. Some of the crack musical organizations of the county have been engaged, and also some of the notable preachers. Dr. Young delivered his sermon from the president's stand. His text was, "I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, to be content," Phil. iv:11.

The burden of his discourse was that there is always an opportunity for the ambitious man or woman to reach the top-notch in any profession. "Once in Boston town," said Dr. Young, "the great wheels of a giant manufactory stood still. A defective pipe caused the trouble, and baffled the skill of local mechanics. From a neighboring town an expert plumber was summoned. He took off his immaculate cuffs, tapped along the pipe and eventually located the trouble. His bill was $50 50. The management was delighted to pay it, but asked an itemized bill by way of remembrance. The item ran thus: 'For doing the work 50 cents; for knowing how to do it, $50. The divine art of knowing how to perform life's toil, bear life's sorrows, meet life's temptations—be this evenitde our study, our ardent prayer to master it. Content, whether at the top or at the bottom—self-sufficient, as the Greek word means—what a blessed disposition! Scoundrelism of somebody who filched from you the property relied upon to gladden declining years. Ventures expected to bring back competency, shipwrecked.

"You are down or afraid of being down financially. Well, were you commissioned to find the best man in the world today, would you search Bradstreet's list of multi-millionaires? Name a single stalwart soul, who was never abased to poverty's border line. Equipoise even there is riches. Abasement is not your direst danger. Abounding is 10 times more perilous. Any fool ought to stand adversity, but it takes a cool head to bear prosperity."

FAMOUS CHURCH CASE COMES UP ONCE MORE

Lake Presbytery Will Add Another Chapter to Wallace vs. Jamestown Session Trouble.

United Presbyterians are taking much interest in the outcome of the Lake presbytery meeting at Greenville next Friday, as the famous Wallace vs. Jamestown session case will be disposed of. The general assembly refused to take any further action in the affair, since the decree of the supreme court was handed down in favor of Mr. Wallace, and advised Lake presbytery to dispose of it as speedily as possible.

A recent law of the church, made at the last general assembly, gives presbyteries full power in such cases, and it is with this end in view that a special meeting of Lake presbytery has been called. According to the present plans the incumbent pastor of Jamestown church, the Rev. Mr. Jamieson, will be given a vacation for an indefinite period, and Mr. Wallace installed in his old charge.

It is expected, then, that the congregation will protest against Wallace's services and appeal to the presbytery again, which will duly dismiss him for all time from the Lake presbytery. In this manner it is hoped to end a 12-year war which has caused no end of trouble both in Lake presbytery and in the United Presbyterian body as a whole.

Mr. Wallace is a fighter and it is believed will not permit Lake presbytery to dismiss him so easily. According to the ruling of the supreme court he can claim his salary for every year he has been away from his charge. At the last stated meeting of the presbytery on this case Mr. Wallace had his attorney by his side and made no move or spoke a word without conferring with him.

FIRST SERVICES IN TENT.

Wilkinsburg Baptists Hold Summer Meetings Under Canvas.

The initial services were held last evening in the new gospel tent, corner Wallace avenue and Wood street, Wilkinsburg, erected and equipped last week by the congregation of the Baptist church. The tent was provided with 400 chairs and every available seat was filled to hear the sermon of the pastor, the Rev John M. Moore, who chose for his subject: "Forgiveness of Sins."

It is purposed to make these gospel meetings of special interest and, to this end, the regular Sabbath evening services at the church will be abandoned during the summer months.

FUTURE IS BRIGHT.

Lieut. Lyles Says Philippines Comprise Richest Territory in World.

BALTIMORE, July 6.—Lieut. D. C. Lyles, United States army, who served on the staffs of Gens. Lawton, Funston and Smith in various capacities in the Philippines, whence he recently returned, is visiting friends in this city.

"The future of the Philippines is bright," Lieut. Lyles said. "Order has been restored from chaotic conditions which obtained in the days of the Spanish. The climate is splendid, the people for the most part are amiable and appreciative of what the United States have done for them, and it is my opinion that the archipelago comprises the richest territory in the world."

While Trying to Swim.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., July 6.—Two men were drowned here today, making a total of five lives lost here in this way in the past 24 hours. Robert Wilson of Detroit was drowned in the St. Joseph river, while trying to swim. This afternoon, Ward Kizer, aged 17, of South Bend, Ind., was seized with heart failure while bathing in Lake Michigan, and drowned before help could reach him.

Convicts Thought Of Other Gates

The musical exercises at the Western penitentiary were under the direction of William A. Davis, supervisor of music in the public schools of Allegheny, assisted on the organ by E. G. Bush of Pittsburgh. Mr. Davis sang several solos, which were loudly applauded, before he sang "Beyond the Gates of Paradise." The applause after that hung fire for a second or two, the convict auditors evidently meditating on being beyond the prison, instead of pearly gates, but they finally broke into ecstatic applause.

AMERICA IS THE FAVORED NATION SAYS MINISTER

The Rev. Dr. J. K. McClurkin Reminds Us of Many Blessings.

"LEST WE SHOULD FORGET"

Facts of Our History Recalled to Show Why We, as a Country, Should Keep God's Commands in Mind—Work of Last Congress.

"The Call to Our Country" was the subject of the Rev. Dr. John Knox McClurkin's sermon yesterday morning in the Shadyside United Presbyterian church. Taking for his text "Only take heed to thyself lest thou forget," Deut. iv:9, he said:

"The words of God to the people of Israel come to America with intensified meaning. Of israel it was said: 'What nation hath a God so nigh to them in all that we call upon Him for;' so, too, my friends, the same may be said of this great American nation of ours. God is nigh unto us at all times, aye abides with us. The story of Plymouth Rock, Valley Forge, Bull Run, Gettysburg, San Juan and Manila bay is the story of answered prayer, the story of God near us, with us, by us at all times. God speaks of Israel as a great nation and His words acquire a peculiar significance when applied to the American republic.

The Nation Is Great.

"The greatness of our nation is often set forth in its multifarious resources; that, for instance, it could support a population of thousands of millions, that it has one half the supply of the gold and silver of the world and numerous other resources that make it not only a world-power but one of the great world-powers in international life.

"But to come down to recent time and doings. Let us look at the work of the congress just closed. By it the republic of Cuba rises to a new life among nations, the army withdraws from that country and war taxes are lifted; millions upon millions of arid acres in the west are to be irrigated and made productive; the mantle of civil rule is to be thrown over multitudes in our possessions; the time-lock to be opened at the isthmus; the water route to be shortened by 10,000 miles, and centers of manufacture, like Pittsburgh, brought within easy reach. Such is the work of representatives of this great country.

Lest We Forget.

"The visit of our president this week was another impressive occasion. These things are cited because they are part and parcel of the nation's growth; they tell of mighty influences at work in the nation. They speak of its greatness. We are now ready to hear God say unto us: 'Take heed lest thou forget.' Senator Thurston electrified the nation by calling on it not to forget the Maine, Rudyard Kipling thrilled the world by his 'Lord, God of Hosts.' There are several things which we are in danger of forgetting. First, our standing as a Christian nation. When our government once made a treaty with Tripoli, it was flung in our teeth that we were not Christian.

We Must Live Straight.

"We were then in danger of forgetting our own history, forgetting that the Christian Hollander, Puritan and Huguenot laid the foundation of America's greatness.

"Then, we are in danger of forgetting the Sabbath. The rush of our modern life with its multifarious forms of industry, often causes us to overlook the importance of the Lord's day.

"Again, there's the stranger at our gates. America has special duties to the yellow race, the black race and the red race. She may not forget these. The saloon, too, is threatening our future. It is the greatest impediment in the spreading of God's kingdom.

"Let America only awaken to the importance of legitimate reform in the conduct of saloons, and it shall have saved many souls unto Christ.

TURNERS IN SESSION.

Officers Are Selected, Including August Bugholz of Pittsburgh. Report for the Year.

DAVENPORT, IA., July 6.—The twentieth national convention of the North American Turnerbund opened in this city this morning. The features of the opening session were the reading of reports by President Lieber and Secretary Theodore Stempfel. President Lieber spoke in favor of the recommendation of the national executive committee that women be admitted to full membership.

Secretary Stempdfel's reported showed the order to be in a prosperous condition. The status, January 1, 1902, was as follows: Local societies, 257, an increase of four during the last year; grouped into 28 district organizations. Whole membership 46,708, an increase of 68 per cent over 1901. Ladie's organizations number 164, an increase of 70 for the year. The turner libraries contain 71,294 volumes. Real estate and other property owned is valued at $4,475,950; total incumbrances thereon, $1,770,705.

A permanent organization was effected by the election of Emil Wallber, Milwaukee, chairman; Adolph George, Chicago, vice chairman; Noah Guter, Newark, N. J., secretary; August Bugholz, Pittsburgh, assistant secretary.

Three Boys Drowned.

DETROIT, July 6.—Three young boys, Tony Henkel and Oscar Rosenberg of Detroit, and a boy whose name is not known, were drowned today in the middle channel at the St. Clair flats, by the capsizing of a sailboat. The accident occurred about 200 feet from Savage's hotel, where young Henkel and Rosenberg were stopping.

PREPARING FOR THE BIG JUBILEE

PASSIONIST FATHERS WILL HOLD BIG CELEBRATION HERE.

The Very Rev. Father John Baudinelli, Consultor to the General Is in the City. Triennial Chapter Will Be Held at Same Time.

The Very Rev. Father John Baudinelli, consultor to the general of the Passionist order, arrived in this city from Italy Saturday night, and is stationed at St. Paul's monastery, South Side. Father Baudinelli will represent the Italian provinces at the golden jubilee of the establishment of the order in this country, preparations for which are being rapidly made.

The jubilee, as has been stated, will be held in the monastery church on the South Side, and will bring together one of the largest gatherings of Catholic clergymen ever seen in this city. In conjunction with the celebration the triennial chapter of the order in this country will be held the latter part of next month, at which a provincial and heads of the various monasteries will be elected, also two consultors to the provincial.

The present provincial is the very Rev. Father Stephen Kealy. He is eligible to election a second time, as are the rectors of the various monasteries.

The opening of a Passionist chapter is of a most solmen nature, beginning with the celebration of the "Red Mass," or mass of the Holy Spirit, at which blood red vestments are used, and the altars decorated as for a great festival. Following this there is a procession of the provincial and rectors of the various houses, who are entitled to a vote. The provincial leads the way, bearing a heavy cross on his shoulders.

The chapter convenes in the spacious library of the monastery, said to be one of the costliest in the state. The executive management of the order is entirely democratic, and the elections are often spirited, though the public hears but little of what has transpired. At this chapter there is also a master of novices elected. The latter's duties are to take care of candidates for admission to the order.

The Passionists have now eight houses in this country, with a community of from 20 to 25 professed priests, students and lay brothers in each. Their work is entirely of a missionary character, in which they are engaged from one end of the year to the other.

NURSES FORGOT HOW AWFUL THEY LOOKED

Clever Jolly Sent Two Bedraggled Young Women About Their Business Cheerfully.

A woman's natural desire to look well came near to breaking the professional nurse standard on the Fourth, at Schenley park. It was just after the short but gusty and fierce thunder storm had raged over the big pleasure ground. A relief of two nurses was ordered by Surg.-Maj. W. McC. Johnston of the Fourteenth regiment, and warden of the Western penitentiary, who had charge of the hospital arrangements, to go to the branch hospital on the racetrack hill. It was time to feed the horses and none of the ambulances were available.

A buggy was procured and the two young women were told that they would have to ride in that vehicle. Early in the day they were white-clad and trim. But the storm had got at them and now they were wet and bedraggled. Blankets were thrown about them and added to their woe-begone appearance. They looked as if they were in a bad humor. "For goodness sake look pleasant, girls," said Maj. Johnston; "don't you see the crowd is admiring you for your heroism to duty?" Both young women broke into laughter and forgot their forlorn appearance and went out cheerfully.

Maj. Johnston is well pleased over the work of his hospital forces at Schenley park on the day the president was here. The first time military field hospitals were pitched and manned by corps of physicians and trained nurses in this city was during the 28th national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, in August, 1894. At that time wall tents were used and they proved to be very small and uncomfortable, as only two cots could be placed in each. When Maj. Johnston was asked to arrange a field hospital service for the celebration last Friday, he decided to use large company mess tents. Four were furnished by the Fourteenth and two by the Eighteenth regiments.

Seven ambulances, besides four police patrol wagons equipped for all emergencies, were ready at all times to respond to any call. Their utility was strikingly shown before the celebration was over.

As each patient was received his name and place of residence was taken, and the medical reports show that they came from all parts of Western Pennsylvania. The treatment covered everything from a dislocated shoulder to scalp wounds, burned hands and heat prostration. At one time 55 cots were occupied by men and women suffering from different ailments.

The linen for the field hospitals was furnished by the Allegheny General, Mercy and West Penn hospitals, and the ice for hospital No. 1, at the park entrance, by the House of the Merciful Savior. The hospital at the Conservatory was devoted entirely to women and the physicians and nurses were kept busy at it during the day.

CATHOLIC SCHOOL OPENS.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., July 6.—The eleventh annual session of the Catholic School of America at Cliff Haven on Lake Champlain opened today with the arrival of a large party from New York city, including the Rev. Michael J. Lavelle, president of the school.

An informal reception was held this evening at which short speeches were made by Father Lavelle and others. The regular sessions of the school begin tomorow, the lecturers for this week being Thomas A. Mullen, A. B., of Harvard university, and James A. Rooney, one of the editors of the Brooklyn Eagle.

Twelve Houses Swept Away.

HOPE, IDAHO, July 6.—A cloudburst at Ellisport, east of Hope, swept away 12 or more houses and washed out two miles of track on the Northern Pacific. There was no loss of life. For a considerable distance around Ellisport the country is flooded.

Pale. Thin

Pale cheeks, white lips, and languid step tell the story of thin blood, impure blood. Doctors call it "anemia." They recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Ask them and they will tell you just why it makes the blood so rich and red. $1.00. All druggists.

Anemic people are almost always constipated. Their liver is sluggish. They have frequent attacks of sick-headache, nausea, biliousness. Just one of Ayer's Pills each night will correct these troubles.

DEMOCRATS SEE NO HOPE TO WIN THIS CAMPAIGN

Dreams of a Few Months Ago Have Ended With Terrible Awakening.

COUNTRY WELL PLEASED

Promises and Practices of the Republicans Are Too Good to Be Lightly Turned Aside—Large Majority in Congress Now Assured.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6.

The coming congressional campaign, for which both parties are now preparing, promises to be one of apathy, so far as the Democrats are concerned. A bluff of doing vigorous work is now being made at Democratic headquarters, but their leaders admit frankly that they can see no signs of a desire on the part of the voters to make a change in existing conditions. When they get in touch with the people they will endeavor to find something for an inspiration, but most of the Democrats do not count on a victory in November.

There will be much groping about for topics on which to run the campaign and each candidate will be allowed to make his canvass as he pleases. Two or three months ago it was the other way. The minority party was then in high feather, and those Republicans who were willing to express themselves freely on prospects ahead prophesied that the indications were favorable to their opponents. They go out now with much better heart, convinced that, based on the splendid record made by congress, and the Republican record since the dark days of soup houses in 1894, the chances are all in favor of winning.

Thousands Change Their Faith.

The course of the Gold Democratic vote will be of some importance in the result. Although the recent harmony dinner in New York produced a vast deal of discord, the Democratic statisticians are counting on getting a great many supporters this fall from the Democrats who have voted with the Republicans in the last three congressional campaigns. But a canvass that they have made shows that in many of the states thousands of loyal Democrats who went over to the Republicans in 1896 on the money issue enjoy the change so much that they are now as stanch Republicans as they formerly were Democrats. This was found to be especially true in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and other northern states. However, the Democrats are counting on enough accessions from this source to partially overcome the advantage that the Republicans have gained by redistricting states.

This latter advantage is bound to be an important factor, for every northern state, except Montana, Idaho and Colorado, has been under Republican rule during the last few years with Republican legislatures to make the laws. In numerous instances the states have been redistricted by these legislatures and always with a view to making it difficult for Democrats to get into the house of representatives. In Pennsylvania, with its enormous Republican majority, the districts were carved out on that basis, and as a consequence the Keystone State is expected to send 28 Republicans out of the 32 in the delegation with the possibility of sending 30 out of the 32 on account of dissension among the Democrats.

Where Gerrymander Counts.

The New York Republicans wiped out the gerrymander made when Tammany ruled the roost and have fixed a number of the New York city districts so that the large Republican vote of that metropolis shall send some representatives to congress. The Albany district has been made certainly Republican and thus that earnest and conscientious member, George N. Southwick, is certain to be returned. In Massachusetts, the Worcester district which has been sending a Democrat here, has been strengthened and will hereafter send Republicans.

In Ohio, Illinois, Minnesota and West Virginia, the Republicans have taken advantage of the situation, while in Connecticut and Washington, the additional member will be elected at large.

On the Democratic side Texas, Missouri North Carolina and Maryland have been redistricted with the intention of depriving the Republicans of a number of seats, but this will not offset the advantages gained by the Republicans.

Thus with no issues on which to ask for support and with the people satisfied to let well enough alone the Democrats see no opportunity to get into power this year. CHARLES W. METZGAR.

BIG CHECK MISSING.

Uncle Sam's Disbursement of Indianna's Spanish War Claims Goes Astray in the Mails.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6.—(Special.)—As soon as the treasury department opens tomorrow morning the officials will get busy to ascertain what became of the check for $635,600 drawn by the United States in favor of Indiana in payment of her Spanish war claim. The check has not arrived at Indianapolis, according to state officials, although similar checks mailed from Washington at the same time have been received in other states.

The record at the treasury department shows the check was mailed in due form. It was addressed to Gov. Durbin. This fact possibly is accountable for the apparent miscarriage, inasmuch as Gov. Durbin is away from Indianapolis and may have taken the check with him.

At any rate, there can be no less. The check is made payable to Gov. Durbin and would require his indorsement to the treasurer of the state of Indiana before it would become valid.

PANAMA CANAL TITLE.

Attorney General Knox May Go to Paris at Roosevelt's Wish.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 6.—Attorney General Charles W. Russell is completing his preparations, and within a week will start for Paris to investigate the ability of the new Panama Canal Company, to give the United States a satisfactory title to concessions and property on the isthmus.

When this preliminary work shall have proceeded to a certain point Attorney General Knox, according to the president's expressed wish, probably will go over and personally look into the matter. He has invited Senator Spooner to go along and assist him, in view of the senator's well-known familiarity with the matter and the attorney general's opinion of his ability, and hopes that he will go.

IMMENSE TURNOUT OF ODD FELLOWS EXPECTED

Dedication of Home for Aged Members, at Grove City, Will Be an Unique Affair.

The final meeting of the committee of arrangements for the dedication of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows' Home for Aged and Infirm Members, or the Wayside Inn, as it is to be known, at Grove City, on July 17, was held in Mendel's hall, East Ohio street, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. Representatives from 12 counties in Western Pennsylvania were present, and the other 33 counties in the western part of the state, which will take part in dedicatory exercises were represented by letters.

Final arrangements were completed for the dedication and Chairman L. K. White announced that the attendance will exceed 25,000. "It will," he said, "be the largest gathering of Odd Fellows ever held anywhere, and will be the biggest success our order has ever known. Our railroad facilities will be perfect, with the exception that it will be impossible to accommodate on the railroads all the people who want to attend the dedication. The trouble is the necessary rolling stock is not available.

"The railroad companies have arranged a system of flag signals from Butler to Grove City, so danger from wrecks or accidents will be practically avoided altogether."

Chairman White read an outline of the dedicatory exercises, which will be decidedly unique. Those participating in the exercises will be dressed in the costume of ancients.

The last train to leave Allegheny on the morning of the dedication will be on the Pittsburgh & Western road, at 9:30 o'clock. The last train returning will arrive in Allegheny at 11 p. m.

COMBINATION OF FORGE INTERESTS WAS POSTPONED

Leading Concerns Could Not Be Represented at Meeting Last Week.

WILL INVOLVE $14,000,000

The Promoters Plan to Absorb Almost All of Large Interests in This Country—Matter Is in Abeyance Until Next Autumn.

The deal to launch a $14,000,000 combination of leading forge concerns of the country is destined to indefinite delay. It had been planned by the promoters to have all the concerns in interest represented at a meeting in Cleveland, O., last week, but this was postponed till early fall because some of the leading concerns could not be represented.

Interests of the Duquesne Forge Company of Pittsburgh, with works at Rankin, have been actively interested with the promoters in the deal. Arrangements have been made to have the new concern financed by J. & W. Seligman & Co. of New York. It is to be incorporated in New Jersey. Of the securities, $7,000,000 are planned to be stock of one class and $7,000,000 bonds.

The Duquesne Forge Ccompany is one of the oldest interests of the kind in the Pittsburgh district. It was incorporated in 1854, with capital of $100,000, but the investment is now several times this. D. S. Bissell is president of the company. Another Pittsburgh concern from which the promoters had obtained a selling price is the Pittsburgh Forge & Iron Company, organized in 1867, with authorized capital of $200,000, more than which has long since been invested and the company has a surplus several times the original capitalization.

The Carbon Steel Company has been mentioned as among those the promoters of the new company plan to absorb, but according to a director of the company, no arrangements have been made looking to this end, nor have any propositions been submitted to the board of directors. This company is capitalized at $5,000,000 and its high grade steel goes to all sections of the world. J. W. Anderson, director and general manager of the company, declared yesterday that the Carbon company is in no way interested in the consolidation.

The deal for the combination of the forge companies has been on for a long time. In its early stages, and before the capital scheme had been decided on there were negotiations to take over the Midvale Steel company, which, in the last armor plate negotiations of the government, underbid the Carnegie and the Bethlehem concerns, but had no plant ready to produce the material. The demand of this concern for a high cash price left it out of consideration.

Besides the Pittsburgh concerns mentioned the promoters of the combination have deals on with concerns at St. Louis, Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo, and some in New England, and among these are mentioned the Cleveland Forge Company, and the Otis Steel Company of Cleveland, and the Delaney Forge & Iron Works at Buffalo, N. Y. Some of the Pittsburghers in interest say there is no hitch in the general deal but that delay is desired till after summer vacations.

TWO WOMEN INJURED.

Both Got Off Cars in Carnegie and Were Thrown Heavily.

Mrs. James Gallagher of Chestnut street, Carnegie, was seriously injured yesterday morning by falling off a car at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets. Mrs. Gallagher was taken home, and as soon as she got within the house she became unconscious.

Another woman was injured at the same place, in the same manner, late Saturday night. Lulu Erskine of Main street, Carnegie, was in the act of getting off a car at Chestnut street when the car started to move again. She was thrown to the ground and when picked up the blood was flowing from her mouth. Yesterday her condition was serious.

INDIANS ARE BLAMED.

Four Hundred Cattle Owned by Lawbreakers Killed and Trouble Feared.

ARDMORE, I. T., July 6.—Grave trouble between cattlemen and Indians in the Choctaw nation is feared because of the killing during the past week of nearly 400 cattle, supposedly by the Indians.

The trouble arises from the violation by the cattlemen of the law providing that non-citizens of the nation shall have no more than 10 head of cattle each. It is asserted that the cattle owners have violated the law with impunity and aroused the hostility of the Indians.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, July 6.—Manager Selee's squad of ball players worsted the champion Pirates at the West Side ball park this afternoon in one inning. The Recruits in the initial round hammered Pitcher Phillippe for a total of five hits, and these, combined with two errors by the champions, resulted in the scoring of four tallies.

After the scoring of the four runs in the first the Seleeites batted four more tallies in the remainder of the game, leaving the score at the conclusion of the contest 8 to 3 in their favor.

Jack Taylor was the sick artist for the recruits and though he was touched for a total of nine hits in the game, these safe connections with the ball were so scattered that only the three tallies of the Pirates resulted.

Taylor Was Invincible.

Taylor was master of the game throughout and only in the fourth inning, when through a safe drive and two passes did it look gloomy for him. The side was retired, however, with the three men still on the bases. The appearance of Phillippe in the box for the Champions brought out 6,000 fans.

Dexter started the trouble by connecting with one of the Pirate twirler's shoots to left field for a base. He reached second through Leach's error and came home when Jones hit safely to center for a base. Lowe beat one to the initial sack and he and Jones took another base, on Phillippe's wild throw to catch the Chicago captain at first.

Kling fanned, but Dusty Miller sent a grass-cutter to the left territory. On this hit Jones trotted home. Chance sent a foul fly to left field, it was grabbed by Leach, but Lowe managed to reach home on the out, while Miller succeeded in perching on second on the play. The leftfielder was brought home later by Tinker singling to center. With four tallies scored, Schaefer connected safely for a base, but Tinker was caught napping at second, ending the onslaught.

Pirates Scored in First.

In the first the Pirates succeeded in bringing in a score. Davis sent the ball to Taylor, who threw to Clark so speedy that he dropped the ball and the runner was safe. Clarke hit safely and Davis scored on Beaumont's choice, the playing being made on Clarke. The next two batters were easy outs.

In the third, the Pirates scored their second run after Davis flew out. Clarke brought in the run after he was given life at first by being hit by a pitched ball. He reached second through Beaumont's single and crossed the home plate by Wagner connecting safely.

Their last score came in the fifth, through two singles and an error. After the fifth inning, Taylor settled down and in the remaining four innings retired the side almost in the one, two, three order.

The Recruits did not score again after the first inning, when they clinched the game, until the fourth. Chance made a circuit of the bases before the side was retired. He singled to left and stole second. The next two batters struck out, but "Husk" came home by Taylor driving to center for a base. Two scores were added in the fifth, through three safe connections with Phillippe's delivery and one more in the eighth. A score was added in the sixth through Schaefer's single, Dexter's double and another single by Jones.

Notes of the Game.

First Baseman Clark of the Recruits had to retire from the game when he had his hand split open by a fierce fly Taylor hit the first inning. It is believed the injury will compel him to stay out of the game for some time.

The fielding of Chicago was snappy, two double plays being enacted, while the Pirates went through the performance of one.

CHAMPIONS WHITEWASHED.

Brooklyn Turned the Lime Pail Over Clarke's Men at Exposition Park.

Ned Hanlon's Brooklyn team turned the tables on the champions Saturday at Exposition park, by defeating them by a score of 2 to 0. It was simply a case of getting partially even for the two shutouts administered by the Pirates on the Fourth.

There was nothing to the game but Donovan. He pitched a remarkably steady game for Brooklyn and kept his hits well scattered. He was at his best with men on bases. Sam Leever lost his first contest in seven pitched this season.

NINETEEN SAFE HITS.

That's the Best Brooklyn Did to Currie, the Cincinnati Pitcher.

CINCINNATI, O., July 6.—Brooklyn had a walkover. Currie was hit hard and the miserable fielding game that Cincinnati's team put up let the spectators know early in the struggle that the local players did not have a chance. More than half of the crowd left disgusted long before the farce ended. Attendance, 1,000. Score:

PHILLIES ARE HERE.

Quakers Will Play First of Three-Game Series at Exposition Park Today.

The Phillies, in command of Manager Shettsline, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning and will open a series of three games with the champions at Exposition park this afternoon.

Huntley Jennings, who has been out of the game with a sore finger for some time, will make his appearance at the park this afternoon and his presence will, in all probability, add strength to the team.

The Pirates will arrive home from Chicago this morning and Clarke expects to take at least two out of the three games with the Quaker team.

Meteor Was Third.

BERLIN, July 6.—In the yacht race yesterday from Kiel to Travemunde, the Cicely, owned by Cecil Quentin of England, got the first prize the emperor's cup, in the contest for cruising yachts, class A. The Navahoe, formerly owned by Royal Phelps Carroll, N. Y. Y. C., was second, and Emperor William's American-built schooner Meteor, Baldwin, third. In the racing group, class A, the Orion won. In the contest among yachts sailing in class four A, the Virginia II., owned by Isaac Stern of New York, won, while the Mimosa was second.

GIVEN NIGHTSHADE TEA.

Alleged Double Murder by Poison to Enable Life Partners of Victims to Remarry.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 6.—(Special.)—Nightshade tea is the deadly concoction which, it is alleged, was used by Mrs. Agnes Fleming to kill her husband, John Fleming, that she might marry Howard Jenkins. The same story says Jenkins used the means to poison his beautiful young wife. The scene of the affair is Roane county.

Three weeks ago both John Fleming and Mrs. Howard Jenkins died under suspicious circumstances, but no action was taken until yesterday. On that day Agnes Fleming, who is connected with a family prominent throughout East Tennessee, was married to Jenkins. It is alleged that a letter from Jenkins to Mrs. Fleming had been intercepted just before John Fleming died and their marriage caused the sensation which culminated in their arrest.

Jenkins came to Knoxville from Pittsburgh a few months ago in the capacity of mechanical engineer for the Knoxville Iron Company. The warrants for the arrest of the pair were issued at the instance of relatives of the two dead persons.

KING'S BELL STOLEN.

River Pirates Make Way With Part of the Old Treasure Recovered Off Jamaica Island.

NEW YORK, July 6.—There was excitement this morning on board the ship Attractor, moored at Jersey City, when the crew discovered that during the night river pirates had boarded the vessel and carried away the most precious thing on board—part of an old ship's bell, bearing the inscription, "Prince of Wales, 1740," and consigned to King Edward of England. As told in The Gazette this morning, the bell, or rather the pieces of it, were entrusted to the care of Capt. Scott of the Attractor by the British officials of Kingston, Jamaica, the captain promising to forward it to the king upon his arrival in port here. The relic, together with coins valued at more than $10,000, had been recovered from the sea by native fishermen near Kingston.

Two Bathers Drowned.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 6.—(Special.)—Thomas L. Morgan, aged 28, manager of the Youngstown Garbage Company, was swimming in Lake Cohasset here when he struck his head against the bottom and never came up. Andy Lavack, a Slavonian, went swimming in the Mahoning river, he got stuck in the mud and the current carried him under. Both bodies were later recovered.

HURLEY LOWERS WORLD'S RECORD

AMATEUR CHAMPION CYCLER GOES FIVE MILES IN 10:56.

Forty-Four Riders Started in the Race and Two Men Received Broken Collarbones and Had to Be Carried from the Track.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWARK, N. J., July 6.—At the Vailsburg cycle races yesterday, M. L. Hurley, the amateur champion, won the five-mile race easily, breaking the world's record. He rode the distance in 10:56, beating his own record of 11:09 1-5, made at the same track on June 9.

Forty-four men started in this race and the back bunch caught up at four miles. At the bell there was a wild scramble for positions. On the back stretch Glasson went down and Billington and Achorn went over him. The two latter received broken collarbones and were carried from the track. The summaries:

Half-mile open amateur—Won by Charles Schlee, Newark; Jack Townsend, Pleasant Plains, second; Walter Smith, Brooklyn, third; George Glasson, Newark, fourth. Time, 1:06 2-5. Won by a length.

Two mile handicap, professional—Won by R. M. Alexander, Hartford, 150 yards; R. A. Carni, Worcester, 150 yards, second; Frank Krebs, Brooklyn, 180 yards, third; John King, Newark, 180 yards, fourth. Time, 4:06 2-5. Won by a length.

Twenty-five-mile motor-paced race—Henry Caldwell, Manchester, vs. Benny Monroe, Memphis. Won by Caldwell. Time, 38:48.

Five-mile handicap, amateur—Won by M. L. Hurley, New York Athletic club, scratch; Charles Gurrabrant, Paterson, 200 yards, second; A. Beverman, Bronx, 200 yards, third; Charles Schlee, Newark, fourth. Time, 10:56. World's record. Wiley, Stobbie and Lind, tied for lap prize.

PROGRAM INCLUDES TWENTY-ONE EVENTS

Purses Amounting to $66,500 Will Be Given at New York Trotting Association Meet.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The grand circuit program for the meeting to be given by the New York Trotting association at the Brighton Beach track August 11 to 16 inclusive, was announced today by Secretary V. A. McCully.

It includes 21 events, the purses for which amount to $66,500. Two of these, the Bonner Memorial 2:12 trot, and the special match between The Abbot and Lord Derby, are worth $10,000 each.

Another feature is the Horse Review purse of $5,000 for three-year-olds. Twenty-five of the best youngsters are named in this and it will be the first of the races for that age.

There are eight classes on a new plan the race limited to three heats, each winner of a heat retiring and the horse making the fastest time getting first money and so on.

Following is the complete card for the six days: August 11—2:12 and 2:11 trot, 2:09 and 2:15 pace. August 12—2:18 and 2:14 trot, 2:20 and three-year-old pace. August 13—2:20 and three-year-old trot and 2:08 pace. August 14—The Abbot-Lord Derby special match, 2:10 trot, 2:10 and 2:24 pace. August 15—2:16 and 2:23 trot (four-year-olds) and 2:04 pace. August 16—2:09 and 2:12 pace and 2:07 trot.

HALL RIDES WELL.

Englishman Is in Fine Form and May Win from Freeman Tonight.

Tommy Hall of England, who is to meet Howard Freeman of Portland, Ore., in a 20-mile straightaway motor-paced race at the Colosseum track in Allegheny tonight, continued his wonderful riding in the east by winning the three-cornered race from Benny Monroe and Lawson, at Manhattan Beach Saturday. He rode in splendid form, lapping Monroe once and Lawson three times.

Freeman continued his training at the track yesterday, and made some fast time in a 10-mile workout. He will concede Hall a start of half a mile, and there is every indication of a close and exciting race.

The amateur event is the best that has been offered since the track opened. It will be a 10-mile open race. Prizes will be given to the rider leading the greater number of laps, and also to the man leading at the end of each mile. The entries for this event will close this morning at 10 o'clock.

PIGEONS MAKE GOOD TIME.

Bryan, Jr., and Red Cloud Establish New Record.

The Pittsburgh district of the National Federation of American Homing Pigeon Fanciers held their seventh old bird race of the season from Topeka, Kas., an air line distance of 836 miles. The birds were liberated at 5:59 o'clock Saturday morning.

Reuben Peters of the South Side reported his blue checker cock, Byran Junior, and his red checker cock, Red Cloud, at 5:31 o'clock Sunday evening, making an average speed of 607 yards per minute, which beats all club records for that distance and clearly stamps those birds as the coming champions. The next race will be from Denver, Col., air line distance 1,314 miles.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS.

Committees on Orphans' Picnic Assured of Great Results.

All the committees of the St. Paul's orphan picnic, to be held at Calhoun park July 16 and 17, made encouraging reports at the meeting in St. Paul's cathedral last night. In all the Catholic churches in the diocese yesterday the pastors called especial attention to the necessity of united action in making the picnic a success.

Chairman Frank J. Totten announced that there would absolutely be no begging for charity permitted on the grounds. He also called a meeting of the women in charge of the tables to be held at the park next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. They will draw for location of tables and arrange other details.

Father Lynch reported that the returns are much larger than at the same period a year ago. He made a special request that all the committees report at the meeting next Sunday night in order that the arrangements can be completed.

RAIN.

Rain is bad for racing,
Rain is bad for golf,
Rain is bad for baseball,
All the games are off.

When little drops of water
Come in buckets great,
Then the magnate sayeth
Words ap-pro-priate.

Then the golfer stayeth
Where all balls are high,
Bunkered near the wet goods
Till the storm is by.

Then the worst fanatic
Spreads his umbrella,
Goeth for the rain check—
Told to go to gorilla.

But a little bunch of sunshine
Coming after rain
Rounds-ta up the pikers
To the rookers' skin.

SECOND AMOUNT OF FORFEIT MONEY HAS BEEN POSTED

Races Now Assured Between The Abbot, Boralma and Lord Derby.

DATES HAVE BEEN FIXED

Boralma and Lord Derby Will Meet at Charter Oak Track, Hartford, August 7 and The Abbot and Lord Derby August 30.

New York, July 6.—Now that the second installment of forfeit money for the two great trotting matches between Thomas Lawson's Boralma and E. E. Smathers' Lord Derby, and Boralma and John J. Scannell's The Abbot, amounting to $40,000, has been posted, there is considerable speculation as to who will capture the big stakes.

Each race is for a stake of $40,000, exclusive of the gate receipts, which are estimated at $15,000, and as the winner is to take all, according to the agreement, the total winnings for each race will amount to about $55,000, one of the largest stakes ever contested for on the turf.

With the true sportsmanlike spirit which prompted them to match their famous trotters for such a vast sum of money, the owners of Lord Derby and The Abbot have posted $10,000 forfeit each, while Mr. Lawson, owner of Boralma, has posted $20,000, as the Boston trotter is engaged in both races.

Both matches have been consummated without the slightest hitch, despite the amount involved, and the final date for The Abbot and Lord Derby race was announced yesterday. The horses will meet at the Charter Oak track at Hartford on August 30.

The Boralma and Lord Derby match will also be decided on the same track and will be the first of the matches to take place. The date is August 7, less than a month away, and the horses are all said to be in the best possible condition for their struggle on the turf.

Of the two matches the meeting between Lord Derby and Boralma seems the most evenly balanced so far as the horses' public records are concerned, only being half a second apart. With these two horses it would appear a battle between the trainers, to see what increased speed they can add to their charges.

As yet neither has been asked to go anywhere near his limit, but they have wintered in excellent shape and have done all that they have been asked to do, which shows that their trainers are not the least bit alarmed if the work from now on is satisfactory.

Last season Boralma was said to be a little off in his form, still he reduced his record. Lord Derby won some grand struggles on the track last year, and in a race with the mighty Cresceus he forced the champion to step the last quarter of the mile in the remarkable time of 29 seconds in order to carry off the honors. He was bought at Madison Square Garden last winter by Mr. Smathers for a little over $12,000, but previous to that time Mr. Smathers made a private bid of $20,000 for the horse, which was refused by the Hamlins.

THE THREE RIVERS.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., July 6.—The river at 6 p. m. marked 29.4 feet and rising, making a rise of 1 foot during the past 24 hours. Weather clear, cloudy, showery. The towboat arrivals from above today were the Boaz, B. D. Wood, Coal City, Harry Brown, Exporter, Valiant, Tom Dodsworth, James Morgan, Lake Monroe, part J. C. Risher Ironsides, Fallie, Tom Rees No. 2, and the Charles Brown. The Boaz, Coal City, Harry Brown, Valiant, Tom Dodsworth, Richard Hoffman, Tom Rees and Charley Brown passed on for Louisville and the lower rivers, while the others were sent back to headwaters for more coal and iron.

EVANSVILLE—River is stationary, 10.9 feet. Weather warmer and clear. Excursion business good.

LOUISVILLE—River on a stand with 10.1 feet in the canal, 7.9 feet on the falls, and 24.7 feet at the foot of the canal. Business quiet. Weather clear and warm. Packets on time in and out. City of Cincinnati had a crowd. J. B. Finley and tow arrived from New Orleans at daylight, the good pack. J. B. Wilhard's fare decided to arrived from Pittsburgh with tows and go south. Jim Wood arrived with a tow of coal at noon and returned to Pittsburgh. Gleaner and tow arrived at noon and returned to Pittsburgh. Wash Honshell will be up tonight.

CAIRO—The river marks 30.8 feet on the gauge tonight, a rise of 1 foot during the last 24 hours. Weather fair and warm. The Tennessee came with 4 coal barges. The Tennessee went below after lumber. The Sunshine from Cincinnati passed down for Memphis at 8 a. m. The George W. Cowling brought down an excursion from Tennessee today.

MEMPHIS—The river here stands 18 feet on the guage, a rise of 2 feet in the last 24 hours. The Georgia Lee arrived this morning from Cairo and returns Tuesday. The Lucille Nowland arrived this morning from the Arkansas river and returns Tuesday. All the local packets due today arrived on time.

WHEELING—River 20 feet and falling. Clear and hot. Departed, Ben Hur, Pittsburgh, 7 a. m.; Lorena, Zanesville, 4 a. m.; Virginia, Cincinnati, 8 a. m.; Kanawha, Pittsburgh, 9 a. m.; Keystone State, Pittsburgh, 3 p. m. Down with coal, Fred Wilson, Josh Cook, Charley Hook, 2 p. m.; Sam Brown and Dave Wood, 3 p. m.

MARIETTA—River 22.2 feet and falling. Weather cloudy and hot. Lorena for Zanesville, 2 p. m.; Virginia down, 4 p. m.

HUNTINGTON—River 26 feet. Bonanza for Pomeroy, 4:30 p. m.; Henry M. Stanley for Cincinnati, 4:30; Queen City for Pittsburgh, 6 p. m.

PARKERSBURG—River 23.4 feet and stationary. Weather hot with thunder storms threatened. The Virginia passed down for Cincinnati at 6 p. m.

POINT PLEASANT—River 23.5 feet and rising slowly. Weather cloudy and warm. Up, Ed Roberts. Down, Green H. Kanley, John Moren. The Clifton with Pittsburgh coal while passing at 1 p. m. last night became disabled. She sounded the distress whistle and the Columbia and Carrie Brown went to her assistance and landed her on the point side below Gallipolis.

GALLIPOLIS—River 26 feet and falling. Weather cloudy and warm, Queen City up. Greenwood down.

OIL CITY—River 5 feet 8 inches and falling. Weather cloudy and warm.

WARREN—River 5 feet. Weather, showers and warm.

BROWNSVILLE—River 6 feet 2 inches and stationary. Weather clear.

STEUBENVILLE—River 18 feet 2 inches and falling. Weather clear and warm. Down, Josh Cook, Fred Wilson, Sam Brown, Dave Wood, Pacific No. 2 and Voyager. Up, Kanawha, Ben Hur and Keystone State.

More Coal Went Out.

Although the river is falling fast, there will be barge water for at least another day. The marks last night showed almost 11 feet at the dam, and five tows of coal were sent out: The I. N. Bunton, 6 barges and 4 flats; Clipper, 5 barges; Hornet, 6 barges, 4 flats; Harry Brown, 10 barges, 4 flats; Stella Moren, 5 barges.

Departures.

Gertrude, Morgantown, W. Va.

Packets Leaving Today.

Ben Hur, Parkersburg, noon.
Elizabeth, Morgantown, 3 p. m.
Keystone State, Cincinnati, 4 p. m.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks at Davis Island dam showed the river 10.9 feet and falling.

News of the Rivers.

The steamer Kanawha will not leave for Charleston again tomorrow afternoon.

The City of St. Louis was taken off the ways Saturday and will engage in the wheat trade out of St. Louis.

The barges of the Steel Barge line of St. Louis are being fitted up for carrying oil in bulk at Carondelet.

There are on the ways at Madison two government barges and a new sand barge and the steamer Golden Gate.

The steamer Keystone State leaves for Cincinnati this afternoon, this being her first trip out since the resumption of navigation.

As the mines are shut down in the Kanawha district most of the towboats operating in the Kanawha river have very little work to do.

The steamer Ben Hur has again wheeled back into line and the Bessie Smith, which was running in her place between Pittsburgh and Parkersburg, is now plying between Wheeling and Parkersburg.

Edgewood's New Station.

A large force of carpenters were engaged all day yesterday in erecting a temporary passenger station and news stand at Edgewood. It is understood to be the intention of the Pennsylvania railroad to construct a modern station at Edgewood, upon the site of the building destroyed by the Saturday morning.

Wildcatters Are Kept Interested

Notwithstanding that the past week contained one full and one half holiday, developments in the lower southwest fields were not without some interesting features for those who keep in touch with the progress of the drill. More attention, if more or less importance, are claiming attention at this time than during any period of the past year. While it is true there are no new fields under development, there are enough small pools to lend interest to field operations and keep the wildcatter interested.

The expected advance in the market did not materialize, but the producer in all fields is still hopeful of an early appreciation in values. The continued reduction of stocks in storage convinces him that the discovery of new pools in the eastern fields is not of sufficient importance to meet the demand for high-grade crude. No matter what contingencies may arise in other quarters to exert a bearish influence, there is nothing in the eastern fields to lead to the belief that the present condition may be reversed in the very near future.

The sale of 1,000 barrels of the Fisher Oil Company's production to the Pure Oil Company for $1,000,000 during the past week is an evidence that settled production commands a high figure, and is not easily obtained at that price. One of the members of the Fisher Company stated that the sale was made against his judgment, but he being one of the oldest members, concluded to let the wishes of the younger members prevail.

The sale just concluded is the first the Fisher Company has made as a company, in which its interests alone were involved. It is quite probable that the sale could not have been consummated on the same basis, could the option have been recalled. Certainly not at the present time. The member of the firm referred to also stated that the scarcity of producing territory that could be operated at a minimum cost, such as the Jackson and Moose Ridge property, made its retention specially desirable at this time.

To illustrate the advantages the Keener sand territory in Monroe county, over the deep sand in West Virginia, he mentioned an experience his company had in the past few months. To complete a well in Monroe county the cost is, on an average, $4,000, while a well recently completed in the fifth sand territory, in the Fairview district, Marion county, W. Va., cost them more than $14,000, and the size of the deep well was not equal to the average Keener sand well in the county named.

Where Interest Centers.

When the fields were last reviewed, attention was called to the Three Joes Oil Company's Keener sand strike in Clay district, Ritchie county, W. Va., located on the Elroy Wagner farm. The drill had only tapped the sand and the well started to flow at the rate of 200 barrels a day. It was also predicted that it would increase its production when drilled deeper. This prediction was made good in a more generous manner than was expected, for when the drill had been sent a little deeper into the pay streak the flow was increased to 45 barrels an hour, and the average production for the last three days was a little above 1,100 barrels a day, as shown by actual gauge.

Based on the present credit balance market, $1.22, the revenue derived from it is $1,342 a day, and it did not require more than about three days' production to pay back the entire investment. Leaseholders are bending every energy in the vicinity of the gusher to plot new work, in the hope of getting a spouter.

Gordon Sand Territory.

Along the line of Wetzel and Marion counties there is marked activity in the Gordon sand territory. The South Penn is the principal developer in this district, but during the week the Southern Oil Company & Greenlee drilled in a test on the W. N. Cunningham farm and got a producer that started at 200 barrels a day. Another Gordon strike of no small importance was that of the South Penn Oil Company on the Mary Ann White farm, located to the northeast and in advance of the Pine Grove development, in Wetzel county. This is an 80-barrel producer and carries the limits of the development a half mile to the northeast.

Two and one-half miles northeast of Salem, Harrison county, and in advance of defined limits, the Southern Oil Company drilled in a test on the Alonzo Riley farm and got a good 300-barrel producer. The district has had the credit of presenting some very nice wells. The South Penn Company found the producers on the Riley farm, as did the Southern Oil Co.

A surprise was sprung by the Carter Oil Company early in the week, when it drilled in its wildcat on the Underwood farm, located 4½ miles southeast of Wellsburg, in Brooke county, W. Va. Soon after it was drilled into the sand the well made a flow said to have been 35 barrels, when drilling was suspended to erect tankage and await pipe line connections. In the meantime the well struck was closed in and the plan of secrecy placed on all those in a position to have any information relative to prospects for the future. An air of mystery still surrounds this well, but those familiar with the situation are not losing any sleep over their failure to gather in block of leases. Should a pool of even a small size be developed it will be the unexpected that happens.

Southeastern Ohio had a quiet week. The only developments of any consequence made in the new Keener sand pool in Monroe county was the drilling in of the duster on the Tomlinson farm, and a mile and a half east of the No. 2 on the Harper farm. In the pool proper the Unity Oil Company drilled in a third well on the E. A. Jones farm and secured a 40-barrel producer.

In the Carson pool, partly in Hancock county, W. Va., and partly in Beaver county, Pa., some good wells are coming in, and the production of the development has now passed the 1,100-barrel a day mark.

Weekly Review of Market Quotations

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Record Week in Fruits and Produce — High Figures Govern Corn and Oats.

Following the upward path upon which it started at the close of last month, the grain market has been gaining strength right along all this past week. Oats and corn have been making record prices, continuing to rise steadily until last Friday, when the advent of a holiday checked all business, and since that time quotations have simply remained in much stronger position than ruled for months throughout the western markets, and middlings have increased in strength. Hay is unchanged but firmer.

Flour has moved forward 10 cents a barrel in price since the beginning of last week. Last Monday there was a decline of about 5 cents a barrel to note, but wheat got into a much stronger position and millers felt benefited in making an advance. Cereal products are all firmer, rolled oats and oatmeal having been especially affected by the excitement in Flour situation.

Some jobbers looked for a change in the price of sugar in the earlier part of the week, but it failed to materialize. Coffee is also unchanged, with the market easy. Navy beans have moved some in prices, but prices are as they were at the beginning of the week.

Standard tomatoes have gone forward in price and are very firm at the advance. Other canned goods are unchanged. Dried and evaporated fruits have been without especial feature, and prices at the opening of last week still rule.

There was a record week in the fruit and produce trade, buyers being out in full force every day. An immense amount of stuff came into the market, but it was rapidly absorbed by the unusual demand, stocks cleaning up rapidly. On Saturday there was a rush of business, purchasers being willing to pay top figures for stock just so long as they could get it, the holiday demand having exhausted supplies at hotels, restaurants and retail stores.

Offerings have been very much curtailed during the week. Potatoes held steady until Saturday, when they declined slightly. Watermelons are lower. Cantaloupes lost ground steadily until Saturday, when figures became somewhat firmer. Peaches are now coming in from Texas as well as Georgia, and increased supplies have brought prices down. Raspberries are lower than they were a week ago. Blackberries are unchanged and cherries higher. Fresh tomatoes have been coming forward in amounts just about sufficient to supply the demand, and quotations have shown little fluctuation.

In tropical fruits the changes have been in California cherries, apricots, plums and peaches, which are all lower in price, with increased supplies, and Florida pineapples, which are scarcer and higher. Oranges and lemons are steady and unchanged, while dates are about out of the market.

Butter and cheese show no difference in price compared with figures of last Monday, while eggs are higher. Receipts of the latter have been very light, and prices are strong. Poultry has had an active week, but prices are almost the same as last week. A fair amount of spring chickens arrived, and their size is now more attractive.

NOT MUCH FAITH PUT IN DENIALS MADE BY LESLIE

Shake-Up in Police and Detective Bureaus Is Confidently Expected.

MORE TO WALK PLANK

Rumor Has It That Nine Policemen and Three Detectives Are on the List—McAleese Proposes to Make a Prediction Good.

In spite of the fact that Director A. H. Leslie of the department of public safety has said all along there would be no removals in the police or detective bureaus, his subordinates say there are a number of decapitations listed for this week. It was positively stated by several yesterday that a number of policemen and detectives would be removed inside the next 10 days. Those who made these statements are members of the two forces and claim to know who the policemen and detectives are that are to be made to walk the plank. Still, Leslie denies that he has any intention of making any removals.

It was said yesterday that there were nine policemen and three detectives to be discharged from their respective bureaus. Director Leslie's alleged reasons for making these removals are based on political unfaithfulness and general inefficiency. It is a well known fact that Leslie has been displeased with the action of some of the detectives since the elections in February.

McAleese Has a Grievance.

In addition to this Superintendent John McAleese of the police bureau has been complaining about the work of the detectives. He has declared on several occasions that their work was very unsatisfactory. There has been more or less friction between his department and the detective bureau since he accepted the position of superintendent. He knows that several detectives have been working in opposition to him, and has declared in reference to this that sooner or later these officers would learn that they have been "fooling themselves." He has as good as said that they would not hold their positions much longer.

In these days Superintendent McAleese is generally recognized as being practically in charge of the bureau of detectives as well as of the bureau of police. Director Leslie vested him with this dual authority.

Whitehouse's Removal No Surprise.

The removal of Inspector Henry Whitehouse of the Oakland district was no great surprise to the men of the two bureaus. And this, too, despite the fact that Director Leslie had denied that he had any intention of making this removal at this time. Whitehouse was removed Saturday. The vacancy thus created in the inspectorship was filled by the appointment of John Lenox, who had had practically no police experience whatever.

This appointment has displeased some members of the police force who claim that they have served in the police ranks for 15 to 18 years and declare the appointment was not in harmony with the civil service supposed to prevail and that it was not fair or decent. Lenox has been serving as deputy sheriff for many years. Director Leslie said yesterday afternoon there was no certainty that Whitehouse would be placed in the detective bureau.

May Be Out Altogether.

According to rumor there is every reason to believe that Whitehouse will be dismissed from police duty altogether. Director Leslie would not, however, confirm this. The detective force consists of 14 men. At the present time the ranks are full. In case Whitehouse is placed on this force it means the removal of one of the present members. Superintendent McAleese refuses to discuss the situation. He is in favor of removing some of the detectives on account of their inefficient work.

Two of the detectives whose removal is expected were seen yesterday afternoon by a Gazette reporter and they said they were not surprised to know the end of their service was near at hand. One of these officers said that he heard that he was to be discharged a month ago.

Another member of this force told the reporter that he had been on the sliding board for two months and he expected to be removed before this. He said his removal would be due to politics and that his friends had placed him on the bureau, and he would not desert them now, after serving them so long. The reporter was informed by several policemen who expect to be removed soon that their differences with the officials head of the department was purely political.

EIGHT STATES READY.

American Federation of Catholic Societies Shows Rapid Growth—Convention Date in August.

CINCINNATI, O., July 6.—Much interest is being manifested throughout the country in the national convention of the American Federation of Catholic societies in Chicago, August 5, 6 and 7. It is estimated that 1,000,000 Catholics will be represented at this convention, including all the leading societies in the United States.

The following states will have permanent federations by August 5: New Jersey, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Alabama, Massachusetts and probably New York, Illinois, Kansas and Minnesota.

The executive board of the federation will meet in Chicago with supreme officers of the Knights of Columbus, Knights of St. John, Catholic Knights of America, Catholic Order of Foresters, Irish Catholic Benevolent union, Young Men's institute, Catholic Truth society, Central Verein, Western Catholic union, Ancient Order of Hibernians, Catholic Benevolent legion, Catholic Mutual Benefit association, Catholic Knights, Ladies of America and others two days prior to the convention to suggest changes in the constitution.

Old Neptune Ever Cooling, Always Refreshing.

The Pennsylvania railroad will run the second seashore excursion Thursday, July 10, leaving Union station, Pittsburgh, at 8:55 a. m., with through parlor cars and day coaches to Atlantic City without change, via Delaware river bridge. Through sleeping cars attached to train leaving Pittsburgh at 7:10 p. m., 9 p. m., to Philadelphia only.

Rate, $10; tickets good for 15 days, and available for 10 days' stop over at Philadelphia, on depositing tickets with agent at Broad street station.

The Second Week of Our July Clearance Sale

beginning this morning will be a week of surprises. To follow these surprises it will be necessary to follow our morning and afternoon news carefully.

The immense stock must be cleared. Our putting aside of all thoughts of profit, never wincing at the great loss in many cases, makes this Clearance Time an interesting occasion for economical buyers.

This morning the news is mostly of dress materials, but you can take it as indicating how the reductions run throughout the store.

Irish Dimities, 15c a Yard.

That is a strong reduction, and a strong incentive to buy. They are the genuine Irish Dimities, not dimities brought to this country in the white and then printed.

Every bit of the work was done in Ireland.

Taking the general lines of imported cottons and linens, the saving is an interesting study, some of the materials showing a reduction of a clear half.

Hints of How We Are Clearing Colored Silks.

Wonderfully little prices — wonderful variety from which to choose. Mention of two of the best numbers:

50c yard—sold for 85c and $1—Broche Stripe Tussah and Embroidered Shantung Pongee, both great favorites with women. Dots and small designs, excellent for waists and shirtwaist suits.

Clearance of Summer Clothes for Boys.

Entire stock of boys' Summer clothes reduced. This will show you what the saving is on some of the lines. Others have about equal reductions.

$3.50—sold for $5 and $6—Sailor Suits of navy blue serge, royal blue serge, solid gray cheviots and homespuns, striped gray serge and flannel suits, large variety for selection.

Norfolk, Russian Blouse and Vestee Suits are reduced—those that were $5 and $6 to $3.50; those that were $7 and $8 to $5; those that were $9, $10 and $12 to $6.75.

Wash Suits (and most of the hot weather yet to come) are reduced—those that were $1.25 and $1.50 to $1; those that were $1.75 and $2 to $1.25; those that were $2.25 and $2.50 to $1.75; those that were $3 to $2.50.

Clearance of White Goods.

Let us be candid. If it were not that this is our clearance month, and that everything has to go out under clearance prices, you would never buy these white goods for the prices now quoted.

There is an unprecedented demand for white goods, and there is no sign of it abating.
